Jackie Sees 'Curious Yellow', Then Flips Curious Fellow

NEW YORK (UPI) — Jacqueline Onassis, irked when news photographers tried to snap her picture at the sexually explicit Swedish film "I Am Curious Yellow", stomped out of the theatre Sunday and flipped a lensman over her thigh to the ground in a neat judo maneuver.

The photographer, Mel Finkelstein of the New York Daily News, landed on his knees after being tossed by the slim, former first lady, but managed to snap a picture of her walking away.

"That girl can handle herself," he said. The incident was the former Mrs. John F. Kennedy's second scrape with photographers within a few days.

Last week, Ron Galella, a freelancer who spotted Mrs. Onassis and her son, John F. Kennedy Jr., bicycling around Central Park, was arrested for "harassment" on the complaint of one of her security men.

Galella claimed it was he who was harassed—roughed up by two private guards—but he got the pictures. His case now awaits a court hearing.

lounge, she noticed the photographers waiting in the lobby. She asked the manager to make them leave and, as Finkelstein said, "We were already leaving. We decided we would work at a discreet distance."

But, Finkelstein said, Mrs. Onassis followed them out of the lobby. Walking six feet out of her way, he said, she made for him and hit him with what he called the "judo trick."

"She grabbed my right wrist, put her other hand on my left elbow, put out her left leg, and flipped me over her thigh."

Jacobs Restates Demands, Raps 'Premature Release'

By LYNN MULVANEY

KINGSTON Richard Jacobs, president of the Civil Service Employees Association today reaffirmed that his organization is demanding a 20 per cent salary increase over the next two years but took The Freeman to task for having been "premature" in revealing the fact last Friday.

Meanwhile, a charge of "breaking the ground rules" has been leveled against Jacobs by Peter J. Savago, chairman of the Ulster County Legislature who said that "the Legislature has kept its promise not to supply information on negotiations to the news media. We have not broken the ground rules. It appears Jacobs has."

The Freeman interviewed Jacobs early last week and he confirmed at that time the plans his organization has, saying it would be "militant" in its demands.

During the first negotiating session Tuesday night, both county legislators and CSEA representatives agreed that proposals discussed would be kept confidential. In his statement Saturday Jacobs did however, confirm that "the total membership of the unit CSEA is 100 per cent behind the proposals." Local membership exceeds 400.

When asked what the 20 per cent demand made by CSEA would mean to the county financially, Jacobs said he had "no comment" in view of the agreed upon ground rules on silence. He did indicate that Oct. 22 had been set as an "impassé date" meaning that if agreement cannot be reached by that time, then the matter will be discussed publicly. Jacobs agreed saying that at that time "no holds would be barred."

In revealing the wage and other demands made by CSEA, The Freeman told of Jacobs having said that, "We don't have any idea of striking, but we won't fold under heat!"

It was suggested in the story that the new posture of the CSEA is prompted by the awaited sales tax revenue which the County Legislature has already indicated it will use to reduce real property taxes.

In a statement issued to the press, Jacobs said, "The Ulster County Unit CSEA is challenging the contents of the newspaper article appearing in The Kingston Daily Freeman Oct. 3. It makes reference to a statement made by certain county legislators suggesting that the real issue here is taxes rather than the poverty level salary of a number of county employees. Their having made such statements shows their bad faith in the current negotiations taking place between the CSEA and the Ulster County Legislature.

"The sales tax they refer to is going to hurt the various persons whose salaries are too low to afford those taxes. By their bringing up an issue such as this, the Legislature is attempting to undermine the CSEA's best intentions. There are presently too many county employees working on a near poverty level or actual poverty level salary who could be eligible for the state food stamp program or probably supplemental welfare programs."

Besides seeking wages and benefits in keeping with today's cost of living the Ulster County

Unit CSEA is also attempting to rectify the inadequacies of wages and general chaos of working conditions in the highway department.

"The negotiating team and officers have received a vote of confidence by the total membership of the unit CSEA and is 100 per cent behind the proposals."

"The irresponsible statements made by the county legislators in the paper can be easily construed to be bargaining in bad faith as well as a possible unfair labor practice. CSEA is attempting at 4:30 p.m. (Friday) to contact Peter J. Savago, chairman of the Legislature, for an explanation as to how this information was leaked to the press, for this is clearly a breach of the ground rules agreed to by both the CSEA and the county legislature and by Savago."

Arab Terrorist Bomb Kills One, Wounds 24

By United Press International
An Arab guerrilla bomb exploded today in the Israeli town of Afula, killing one person and wounding 24. A Cairo official rejected the latest U.S. plan for a middle East peace.

Israeli police said the bomb, weighing four to eight pounds, went off beneath a fruit and vegetable stand in the crowded market. Eleven of the wounded were reported seriously hurt.

Detain Arabs

Policemen set up road blocks in and around Afula, an Israeli city 25 miles southeast of Haifa. They detained dozens of Arabs who had gathered in the market to sell their wares.

It was the latest in a series of guerrilla forays into Israel proper.

Meanwhile, in Amman, Jordanian security forces have foiled an attempt to overthrow the government of King Hussein, an official announcement said today.

Amman Radio, quoting a statement by the Interior Ministry, said the coup plot was organized by the outlawed Al-Tahrir (Liberation) party, known in the Middle East as a small and politically insignificant part of Islamic extremists.

The radio said the overthrow attempt was to have been launched last Friday but Jordanian authorities learned of the plan and arrested a number of persons. It gave no reason for the delay in issuing news of the plot.

In a crackdown on the Arab underground in Israeli occupied territories, Israel today deported nine Arabs from the occupied west bank to Jordan, charging that they were Arab guerrillas.

The Afula explosion followed a weekend of fighting across the Suez Canal.

Condemns U.S.

An aide to President Gamal Abdel Nasser of Egypt condemned the United States Sunday as Egypt's principal enemy.

"The American plan is aimed at tying Egypt to the wheel of imperialism," said Anwar Elsadat, a member of the Arab Socialist Union's executive committee, about the latest U.S. peace plan.

He gave no details of the plan but said the United States "wants us to surrender, but we will not. . . it is enough to say that they call for internationalization of the Suez Canal."

In Tel Aviv, Israeli sources said the two warring nations would set aside their differences Wednesday long enough for Israel to return 100 Egyptian civilians across the Suez Canal to Egypt.

The source said the Egyptians, residents of the Israeli-occupied Gaza Strip, would be turned over at Kantara, an abandoned city on the east bank of the canal. No reason was given for their return.

In Jerusalem, an Australian sheepshearer pleaded innocent today to setting fire to a Moslem mosque, an incident which brought Arab cries for holy war against Israel. But a three-judge tribunal allowed as evidence an earlier confession of the crime.

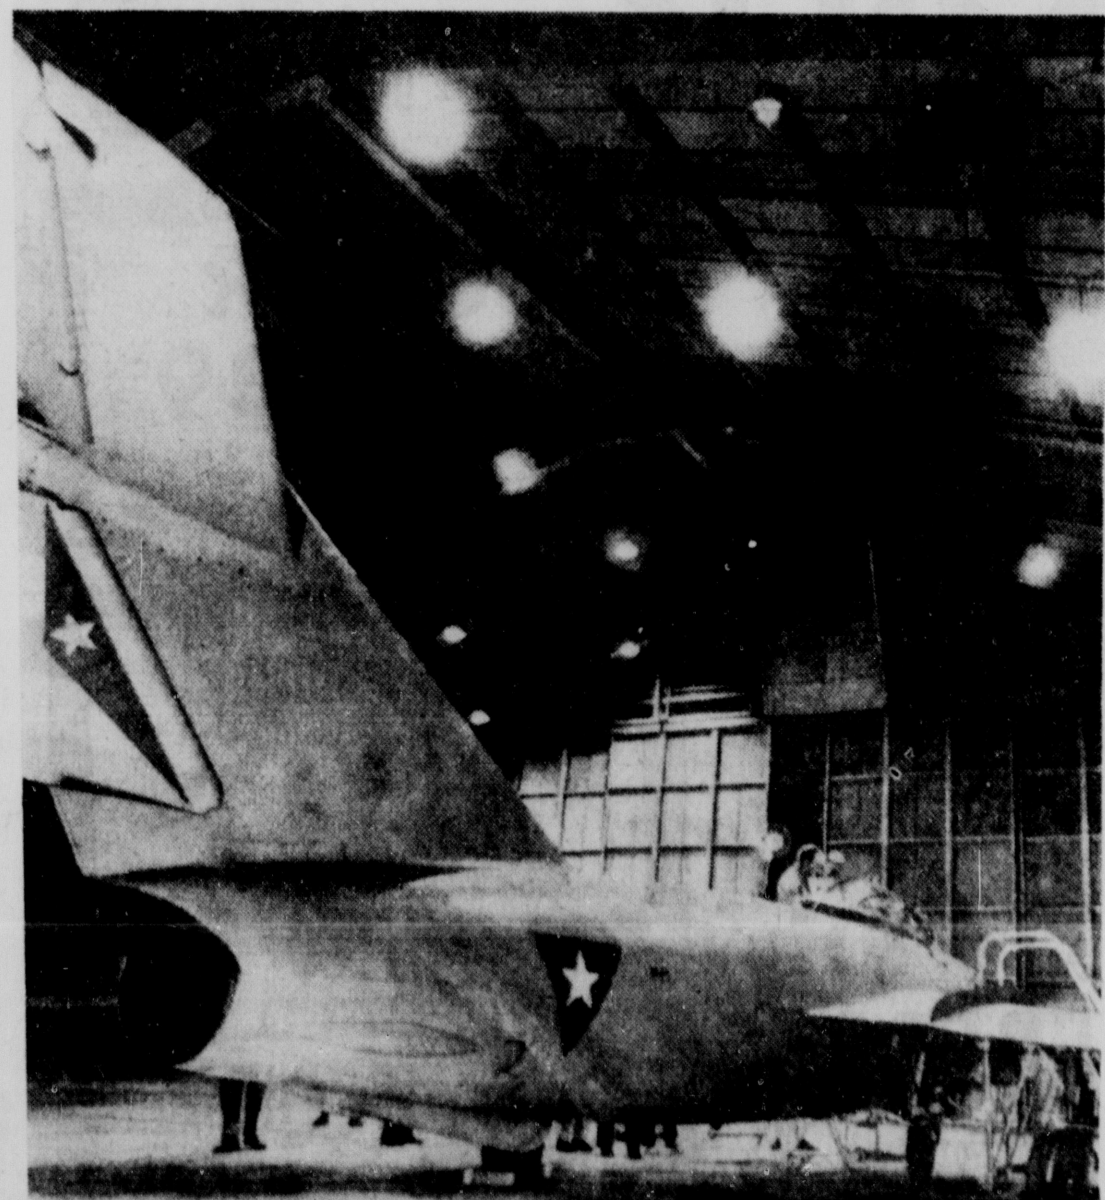

"I got up in the morning, went out and burned Al Aqsa Mosque," a police deputy quoted Denis Michael Rohan, 28, as telling police who questioned him when he was arrested.

SCRUTINIZED—Russian built MIG-17 fighter plane of the Cuban Air Force is shown in a hangar where it is held under tight security by government agencies. (UPI TELEPHOTO)

A Visitor From Cuba Drops In Flying A Russian-Built MIG

HOMESTEAD AFB, Fla. (UPI)—A MIG17 jet fighter with a hammer and sickle stamped on its gunsight and a Cuban flag emblazoned on its tail was under heavy guard today while authorities questioned the man who flew it from Cuba.

The Soviet-built jet landed at this sprawling home of long range SAC bombers and sleek fighters Sunday after it loomed on a radar scope 90 miles east of Key West.

The pilot, an unidentified Cuban, promptly asked for asylum and got it.

"Any plane that comes in with his wheels down is allowed to land," said one Air Force veteran on the Homestead runway. "If he comes in with his landing gear up he will be shot down."

Lands Near Air Force One

The MIG17, of the type which dealt trouble to U.S. fighters during the Korean War, touched down near President Nixon's plane—Air Force One—which was waiting to carry the Chief Executive back to Washington.

The President, who had spent the weekend vacationing at his Key Biscayne retreat about 40 miles away, was informed of the incident Sunday afternoon. But he did not let it interfere with a boating excursion with his old friend, C. B. "Bebe" Rebozo.

The pilot was quickly hustled away by military authorities for questioning.

Almost five hours after the jet landed at 12:25 p.m., with a cannon and two machine guns slung under its belly, the Air Force issued a statement.

The statement did not say whether interceptors were scrambled aloft when the foreign aircraft was detected on the air defense radar.

Takes No Hostile Action

"The MIG took no hostile action and proceeded directly to a landing at Homestead," the Air Force said. "The Cuban pilot requested asylum and it has been granted."

The Czechoslovakia Embassy in Washington, which handles affairs for the Castro regime in this country, was asked to inform the Cuban government the MIG would be made available for return to the Communist island.

Otherwise, Air Force officials were tight-lipped about the unusual landing. Col. Wiltz P. Segura, commander of the 4531st Tactical Fighting Wing, stationed at Homestead, was on hand when newsmen were given a look at the MIG. He would answer no questions, refusing even to give his own first name.

The MIG17s were so effective in the Korean War that at one point the U.S. government made an offer of a $100,000 cash award, a free education and asylum to any enemy pilot who would defect with one.

Committee Defies Court, Majestic Candidate Again

KINGSTON Defying a recent Supreme Court ruling, a committee on vacancies has restored Gardiner Supervisor George Majestic as a candidate for county legislator to represent the Eighth District and for reelection as supervisor.

Last week Judge Edward Conway ruled in Supreme Court at Albany that Majestic could not seek the two offices simultaneously because the law states that no man can hold a town and county office at the same time.

The question now is, will the two commissioners of the Ulster County Board of Elections of accept Majestic as the candidate for the two posts and thereby act in contempt of a Supreme Court order.

When Judge Conway denied Majestic's petitions last week he stipulated that the committee on vacancies could name a substitute candidate for each of the three petitions filed by Majestic.

The supervisor had sought reelection to his post, running on both the Democratic ticket and under the Anti Sales Tax Party banner. He also sought the county legislator post on the Anti Sales Tax ticket.

Saturday morning the Board of Elections received three separate documents from the committee on vacancies, one from the Democratic Party and two from the Anti Sales Tax Party, all restoring Majestic as their substitute candidate.

Because time is an important factor with election less than a month away, the Board of Elections will meet sometime today to make a determination. Last time it was faced with the same decision, Republican Commissioner Seymour Werbalowsky voted to deny Majestic's candidacies and Democrat Joseph I. Epstein voted to accept them.

Commenting on the current cherry, John Egan, attorney for three Gardiner taxpayers challenging the petitions, said that if Werbalowsky and Epstein again split in their decision "Then I have to go to court."

Egan suggested that if Epstein obeys the Supreme Court order, the burden would then rest with Majestic, who, if he wishes to pursue the matter further, would be the one who would have to go to court.

Majestic's three petitions were challenged originally by Warren J. McDowell, Roy F. Denniston and Richard Bor-

Sen. Speno Wants That Goodell Seat

SEN. EDWARD J. SPENO
(UPI TELEPHOTO.)

POUGHKEEPSIE, N.Y. (AP)—State Sen. Edward J. Speno says he wants the U.S. Senate seat now occupied by fellow Republican Charles E. Goodell.

Speno announced Sunday his intention to take the Republican nomination from Goodell, who was appointed by Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller to fill out Robert F. Kennedy's term.

"The incumbent has never been tested for acceptance by the voters on a statewide basis," and he has never been tested before the state committee of the Republican party," Speno told a Young Republicans picnic here.

Speno, self-styled "moderate" from Long Island's Nassau County, said he offered a "viable alternative to the present incumbent."

Goodell, from Jamestown, was thought to be a conservative, but he has adopted a liberal stance on a number of public issues, coming in for criticism from Republican figures.

Goodell recently made headlines with a bill that would require all U.S. forces in Vietnam to be withdrawn by the end of 1970. He has also backed the reelection campaign of Mayor John V. Lindsay of New York City against the winner of the Republican party primary, State Sen. John J. Marchi.

Goodell, in Washington, declined to elaborate on his plans and said of Speno: "I'm not surprised. He wanted the appointment in the first place. He's made it pretty clear."

Rockefeller declared: "Ed Speno is a great guy and a very able senator. Charles Goodell is a great guy and a very able senator."

But No Endorsement
He said he would make no endorsements now.

Speno has a law-and-order reputation in Albany, where he introduced a bill to restore capital punishment for certain crimes and where he helped write a law that allows a policeman to shoot to kill if he has reasonable belief that a criminal he is trying to catch intends to attack him. He is the first candidate to declare for any statewide office among the persons mentioned as possible Democratic senatorial candidates next year are former presidential adviser Theodore Sorensen and Arthur Goldberg, former U.S. Supreme Court justice, secretary of labor and ambassador to the United Nations.

At White Lake Festival

Facilities Lacking

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—Health and safety facilities at the Woodstock Music and Art Festival in August were adequate for 50,000 persons, the State Health Department has said, but not for the hundreds of thousands that attended.

Health Commissioner Hollis Ingraham said, however, that the cooperation of promoters, volunteers and representatives of various government agencies, and of the fans themselves prevented major health and sanitation crises.

Ingraham said, "the anticipated influx of an estimated 250,000 to 500,000 persons into a rural area already crowded with vacationers created traffic safety, food and water supply, and sewage and waste disposal problems which overburdened all of the festival facilities."

Problems he cited included:—Lack of water and a partly contaminated supply.

—An overtaxed sewage system. Some toilets, he said, were overused and others not used at all.

—Heavy rain and resulting mud that sucked off shoes exposing feet to possible injuries.

—Independent food vendors who set up shops without inspection.

and often sold poorly prepared food that was improperly stored and handled.

Ingraham reported that 5,162 persons were given medical aid at the festival site, most of them for minor injuries or illnesses.

Physicians listed 797 treatments for drug abuses, only 72 of which required medical attention, Ingraham said.

Two persons died of narcotics abuse and another was killed when a tractor ran over him as he slept in the fields.

Treatment was also given for 176 cases of asthma, 87 cases of exhaustion and fatigue, 57 cases of heat exhaustion, 64 cases of exposure and 43 eye injuries.

There were no births during the festival, but the commissioner reported eight incomplete or threatened abortions.

No injuries were recorded due to fighting or brawling, Ingraham said.

LIRR 'Promissory Note' Becomes Due on Tuesday

NEW YORK (AP)—Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller's 60-day promissory note to make the Long Island Rail Road the best in the country comes due Tuesday, but a railroad official says there's still months of catch-up work ahead.

"We're in a helluva lot better condition," the LIRR official said Sunday, while terming Rockefeller's Aug. 7 pledge to Long Island businessmen an overstatement.

"But it certainly got everybody off their butts around here," he said.

Hank Boerner, the LIRR's director of public relations, said the improvements came from better labor relations, "not by making deals, as some have said, but by treating the people as human beings."

He credited Walter L. Schlager, the line's new president, with leading the improvements.

Whether the LIRR provides the best service in the country, Boerner said, is "academic from the point of view of the guy traveling from New York to Huntington. He can't judge the quality of the Chicago railroad. He doesn't give a damn. All he wants is to get home comfortably and on time."

The Metropolitan Transportation Authority, operator of the LIRR, said Saturday that Nassau County had agreed to pay $4.2 million in station fees that it owes for the past three years.

The MTA said County Executive Eugene Nickerson had agreed to the payment on a formula worked out by the courts.

Cohoes Hall, Sullivan Bridge Given Historic Trust Grants

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—The Cohoes Music Hall, where Buffalo Bill Cody and John Phillip Sousa once played, will be restored under a municipal grant in aid from the state historic trust, Gov. Rockefeller said today.

The Historic Trust also will help in the restoration of the Stone Arch Bridge over Callison Creek in Sullivan County.

The governor said the Cohoes Music Hall, which was a well-known theater at the turn of the century, will be used by the Cohoes Public Library, the Cohoes Historical and Cultural Society, and a theater group known as the Latham Players.

The Players will operate the third-floor theater with its original ornate French provincial decor.

In addition to the $162,500 state grant, Cohoes also has received a federal grant of $100,000 to help in the restoration. Rockefeller's office said.

The Stone Arch Bridge is a three-arch, solid masonry structure that served travelers from the mid-1800s until 1955, when a new bridge was constructed. It is planned as the focal point of a small, quiet historic environment that will be created as the result of the $17,000 state grant.

Apartments Topic for Council

KINGSTON—The Kingston Common Council will meet in regular session Tuesday night at City Hall and consider, among other things, a proposal to build high rise apartments in what is now known as Lawton Park in the Third Ward.

The aldermen will also be notified of a $50,000 lawsuit against the city and two appointments by Mayor Raymond W. Garraghan.

The mayor has appointed Samuel McCoubrey of Hemlock Avenue Extension to replace Al Brocco as a Civil Service commissioner. McCoubrey's appointment will expire on June 1, 1971.

Garraghan has also appointed Daniel Smith of 114 Hunter Street to replace Francis R.

Koenig as a member of the Board of Public Works. Koenig, a former alderman at large, had filled the unexpired term of Louis Epstein on the board which expired in early September. Smith's term will expire on Sept. 8, 1973.

The lawsuit has been filed by Mrs. Theresa Buckman of 75 Pine Grove Avenue. The suit charges the city with improper construction and maintenance of the sidewalk on Pine Grove Avenue near Susan Street.

Mrs. Buckman charges that she was injured in a fall on that sidewalk on June 14 of this year. She is suing the city for $50,000. The case will be referred to City Corporation Counsel Aaron E. Klein at Tuesday's meeting.

The Lawton Park proposal, if approved by the Council tomorrow night, would become the single largest housing development in Kingston history. Plans now call for a minimum of 400 units on the 18.2 acre site located between The Boulevard (Rt. 32) and South Wall Street.

Legislation now on file recommends the changing of the zoning from its present R-3 to R-6, a move, which according to the Ulster County Planning Board, would allow for up to 900 apartments. The county planning board had been opposed to that many apartments because of the potential traffic congestion on Rt. 32. It had recommended a maximum of 400 units.

The Laws and Rules Committee of the Common Council, chaired by Donald E. Quick (D-Sixth Ward), held a public hearing on the project on Thursday p.m., third floor, city hall.

New Way Found To Stop Hair Loss, Grow More Hair

JIMMY DEMARET
Internationally Famous Golf & TV Star

"The Loesch treatment really works. It has helped me and many of my friends. If you are losing your hair, try it at Loesch's risk for 32 days and see for yourself."

(Signature)

HOUSTON, Texas—If you don't suffer from male pattern baldness, you can now stop your hair loss... and grow more hair.

For years "they said it couldn't be done." But now a firm of laboratory consultants has developed a treatment for both men and women, that is not only stopping hair loss... but is really growing hair!

They don't even ask you to take their word for it. If they believe that the treatment will help you, they invite you to try it for 32 days, at their risk, and see for yourself!

Naturally, they would not offer this no-risk trial unless the treatment worked. However, it is impossible to help everyone.

The great majority of cases of excessive hair fall and baldness are the beginning and more fully developed stages of male pattern baldness and cannot be helped.

But, if you are not already slick bald, how can you be sure what is actually causing your hair loss? Even if baldness may seem to "run in your family," this is certainly no proof of the cause of YOUR hair loss.

Many conditions can cause hair loss. No matter which one is causing your hair loss, if you wait until you are slick bald and your hair roots are dead, you are beyond help. So, if you still have any weak hair on top of your head, and would like to stop your hair loss and grow more hair... now is the time to do something about it before it's too late.

Loesch Laboratory Consultants, Inc., will supply you with treatment for 32 days, at their risk, if they believe the treatment will help you. Just send them the information listed below. All inquiries are answered confidentially, by mail and without obligation. Adv.

WHITA Urges Shift On Ulster Sewers

KINGSTON—The board of directors of WHITA (We've Had It Taxpayers Association) has gone on record advocating the Town of Ulster sewer bond issue be changed to an unoccupied land value assessment formula instead of existing real estate valuation method.

At the recently convened monthly meeting at the Gov. Clinton Hotel the taxpayer board studied a report presented by Attorney Peter H. Harp, a WHITA board member, on his findings in the Ulster Township Sewer District matter. Additional evidence also was presented by Edmond Frawley, a Lake Katrine resident, who is reportedly waging a continuous campaign against the established real estate assessment basis. Frawley submitted reports from the Ulster Town Board in his possession when it became apparent there would be no official representation. He also submitted reports from Consulting Engineers J. Kenneth Fraser and Associates, who advocated regular real estate assessment valuation taxing formula on financing the sewer bond issue.

"It is the contention of WHITA that the unoccupied land assessment method be used to finance the sewer construction, as it is more equitable to all property owners in the sewer district. However, they concur that annual maintenance should be financed by water users who use the sewer system," a spokesman added.

At the October meeting a nominating committee was appointed to select a slate of officers to be elected at the Nov. 12 board meeting. The committee consists of Peter Harp as chairman, Mrs. Emma Apprea, Fred Hofbauer and R. Douglas Taylor.

Also appointed was a new "WHITA Action Committee for Community Involvement". The committee's purpose is to communicate with the public in any given area of involvement pursued by WHITA to keep them informed on the taxpayer organization's accomplishments. This committee will also seek out and investigate problems that affect taxation directly or indirectly. The committee consists of Michael Antonelli as chairman, Fred Hofbauer, Frank Reis Jr., Elmore Yal-lum, Mrs. Edith Miller, Charles Burger, R. Douglas Taylor, Fred Freitag, Peter H. Harp, Mrs. Alice Tipp and Frank Ruddy.

Congressman Fish said that he was not joining with other insurgent groups such as those favoring Congress legislating a timetable for United States withdrawal from Vietnam. "I favor American disengagement in the Vietnam War and this disengagement is on the way."

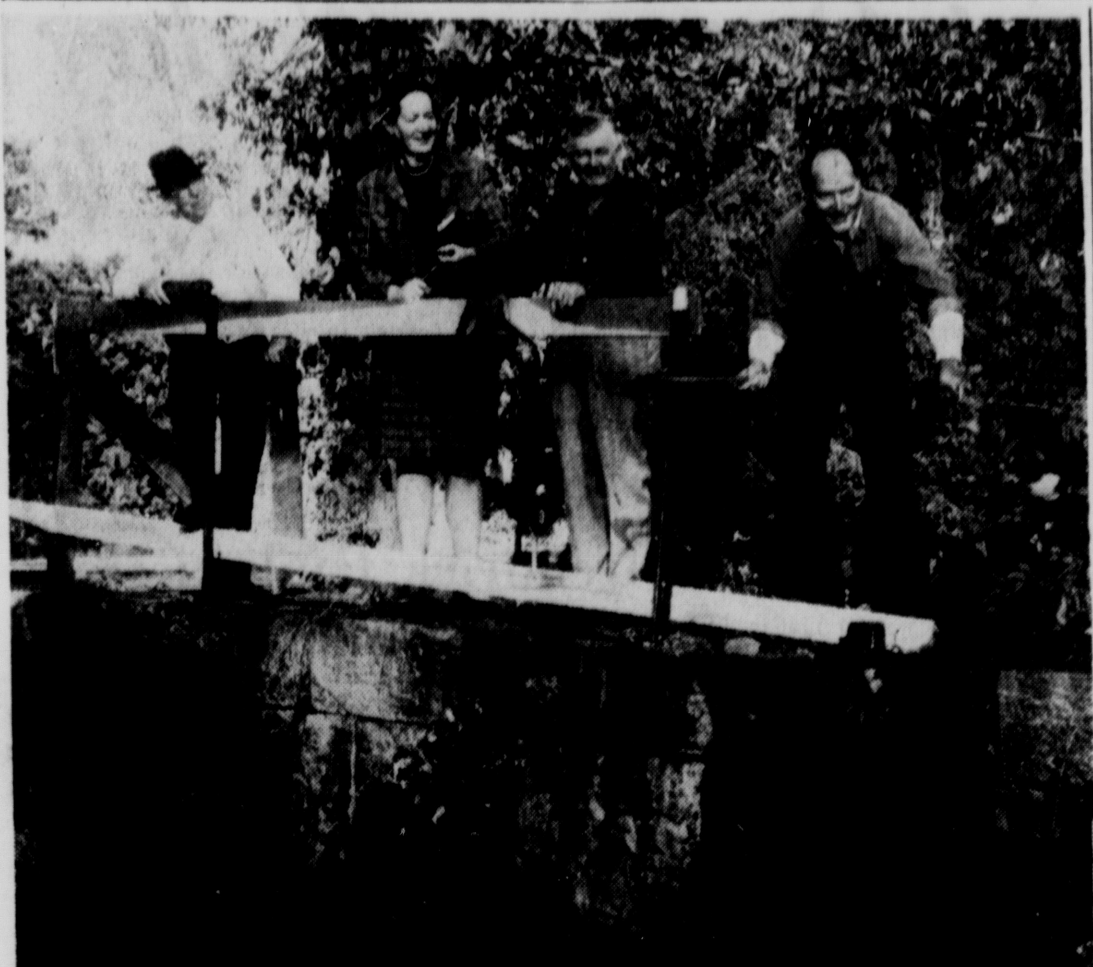

"I believe the President is making every possible effort to get us out of Vietnam and I can see no useful purpose to be served by Congress injecting itself into the areas that are under our Constitution."

"What it really amounts to is a generally bi-partisan search for change in national direction on the floor of the House of Congress," he said.

Fish told the business group that he had joined in a number of bi-partisan movements aimed at shifting governmental emphasis to what he considered to be the need priorities of the seventies.

"I joined the so-called insurgents in a successful effort for full funding for education believing as I do that although our nation needs economy, we can't afford to start with our children."

"I have also joined in another bi-partisan movement which has resulted in having a $214 million administration request for Pure Waters Program fund-

91st Congress Topic

Esopus Group Hears Fish

ESOPUS—Characterizing the 91st Congress as being "locked in a struggle of priorities," Congressman Hamilton Fish Jr., in a speech Saturday night at Friendly Acres Motel before the Town of Esopus Businessmen's Association, said that the search for a new set of priorities has resulted in what is sometimes characterized by the press as insurgent action.

Poughkeepsie Fire Routs Occupants

POUGHKEEPSIE—Occupants of eight apartments were evacuated from their homes shortly before 5:30 a.m. today, while Arlington firemen in command of Chief James C. Laffin, fought fire in the basement of the Yorkshire Apartments on Innis Avenue.

Chief Laffin said the blaze is under investigation by the Fire Investigating Bureau in charge of Earl Laffin, inspector for the department.

The fire was discovered by a resident who notified firemen at 5:25 a.m. Fire units from Central Station in Arlington, Rochdale, Red Oaks Mill and Croft Corners responded to the alarm.

The flames were confined to the basement area where the fire originated in a trash can, and burned up into a first floor hallway of the two-story brick complex. Heavy smoke and some damage was reported in the apartments occupied by Patricia Vreath, Marilyn Stillwell and Anthony For-nichelli.

Seventy-four men from the department answered the alarm. Fire units reported back in service at 7:30 a.m.

Saugerties Man Reported Fair, Fight Reported

TOWN OF SAUGERTIES—Benjamin Clearwater, 25, of Saugerties, was listed in fair condition at Benedictine Hospital in Kingston today, where he is under treatment for a fractured skull and lacerations reportedly received in a fight.

Kingston State Police said Clearwater and Maurice Ronald Luther, 24, of Route 3, Box 116, Saugerties, allegedly engaged in a fight in a parking lot at the Katsbaan Tavern on Old Kings Highway at about 10:15 p.m. Saturday.

Luther was accused of hitting Clearwater on the head and face with a beer glass or mug, causing severe head injuries. Clearwater was taken to the hospital by Saugerties Ambulance Service. Investigation by troopers resulted in the arrest of Luther in Veteran.

Arraigned before Kingston Town Justice Robert Ferrigan, Luther was committed to the county jail in lieu of $10,000 cash bail or $20,000 property bond pending a preliminary hearing. He is charged with first degree assault.

BCI investigators will continue the investigation.

Youth Killed in Dutchess Crash

Stanfordville, N. Y. (UPI)—Alan Sturdevant, 15, of An-cramdale, was killed Saturday when a car he was riding in struck four guard rails and two trees on Route 82 in the Dutchess County town of Stanford.

Ronald Doyle, 19, of Pine Plains, driver of the vehicle, was in fair condition at Vassar Bros. Hospital.

Teeners Hurt In Greene Crash

CATSKILL—Four teenagers were injured Saturday night when the car in which they were riding went out of control on a curve and struck a bridge abutment on Route 9W at the railroad underpass in the Town of Catskill. A Selkirk man was seriously hurt in another mishap investigated by Leeds State Police.

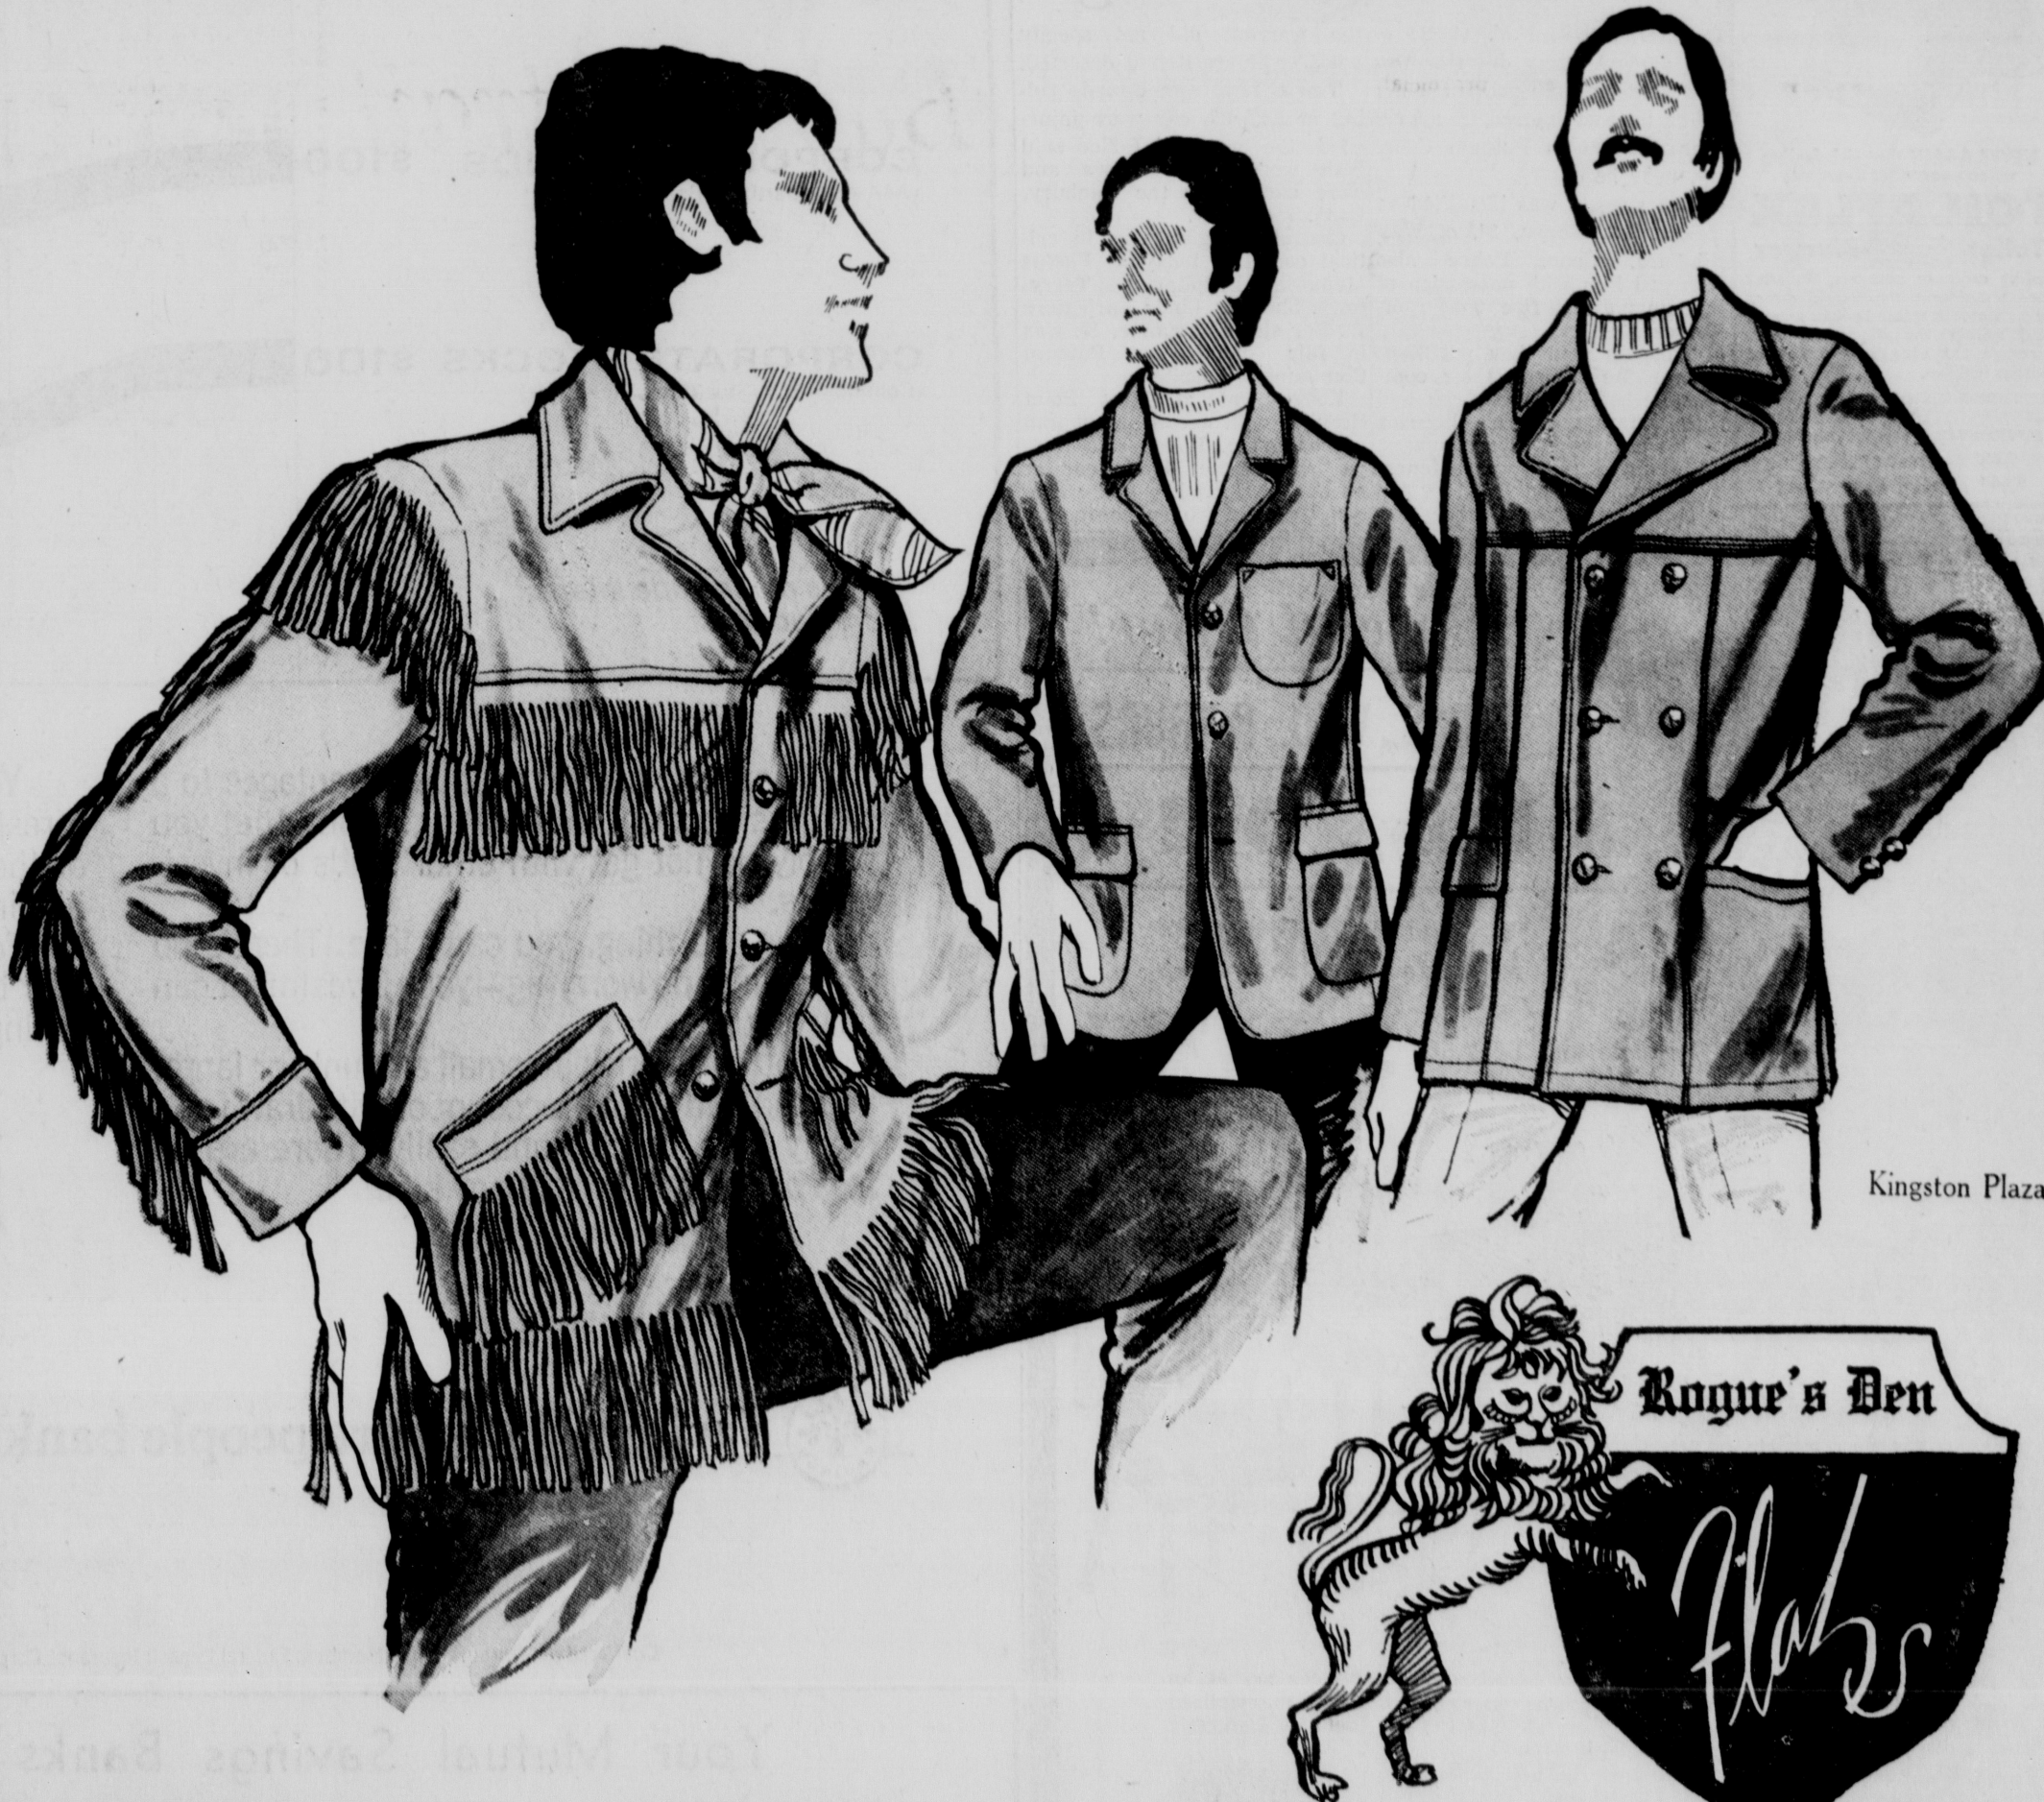

Troopers reported Joseph Rounds, 18, of Troy, was south-bound on Route 9W at 9:15 p.m. Saturday when his car failed to negotiate a curve and struck the bridge abutment.

Removed to Greene County Memorial Hospital were Rounds, who was treated for abrasions of the right leg; and passengers Gail Rolfe, 15, who sustained facial lacerations; Patricia Jaques, 15, abrasions of the nose and lacerations of the right knee and Bruce Reardon, 16, lacerations of the face and nose. They are all residents of Troy.

Rounds was cited by state troopers for unsafe tires and speed not reasonable and prudent.

In the other mishap which occurred at 6:50 p.m. Saturday, Eugene Cary, 23, of Selkirk, was seriously injured when his vehicle was in collision with a car operated by Norbert Bagley, 41, of Coxsackie. Cary was taken to Albany Medical Center suffering fractured ribs, a collapsed lung and multiple abrasions and contusions.

A summons was to be issued to Cary for improper passing.

NEW GLASCO FIREHOUSE—Construction of a new four-bay fire station with a large meeting hall and kitchen is progressing rapidly at a site near Glasco Little League Field, donated by Hudson Valley Lightweight Aggregate Corp. At the 1.5-acre site are (l-r) Glasco Fire Chief Peter Cafaldo, Fire Commissioner Sal Davi and Joseph J. Fabiano, Fire Company president and Building Committee chairman. Cafaldo and Davi are also on the building committee. The concrete block work at the site is being done by Mauro & Lasher Inc., of Glasco. The Glasco volunteers are awaiting delivery of two new fire trucks purchased by the district on June 23 at a cost of $50,000. (Freeman photo by Kruh).

Linkletter Blames The Sellers of LSD

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — The death of Diane Linkletter, 20, youngest child of television personality Art Linkletter "wasn't suicide," it was murder, she was murdered by the people who manufacture and sell LSD," says Linkletter. Linkletter said Sunday Diane jumped to her death from the window of her sixth-floor apartment Saturday while under the influence of the hallucinatory drug.

In an exclusive interview in the Los Angeles Times, Linkletter, 37, said he had to tell what happened to his youngest child. He wanted other young persons to know her story.

"You add LSD to a girl who is somewhat emotional and dramatic and it can be disastrous. She told me about taking it, about her bum trip. She felt she was being driven out of her mind by LSD," the entertainer said.

Sheriff's deputies said Miss Linkletter plunged from a window of her apartment in West Hollywood. A friend, Edward Durston, 27, West Hollywood, was with her when she lunged through the casement of a kitchen window. Deputies said he grabbed for her but was too late. Durston told detectives that the night before Miss Linkletter was "extremely emotional, extremely despondent and very irrational at times, in fact most of the time" in the hours before her death.

Linkletter said Diane, an aspiring singer who would have been 21 Oct. 31, moved with a Hollywood crowd that used LSD but she couldn't handle it. She had a bad trip on the drug and she feared it was destroying her mind, he added.

"She tried it," Linkletter said. "The LSD that people shove into their bodies—it's like diving into a pool when you don't have any idea of the depth. They don't know if it's deep and clear or shallow and dangerous."

Alleged Deserter Faces Drug Charge

BREWSTER, N.Y. (UPI) — An alleged Army deserter was arrested by state police Sunday after he was injured in a one-car accident in Putnam County, near here.

The suspect was identified as Michael S. Konyu, 24, of Wallingford, Conn. Police also charged him with possession of marijuana and five traffic offenses.

Troopers said they put Konyu's name through their computer when they found he had two different driver's licenses in his possession. The computer showed that there was a federal warrant, dated 1966, for his arrest on desertion. Police said the warrant did not specify when or where Konyu deserted. Two sisters from Canada riding in Konyu's car were injured in the accident. Police said both were from Ottawa and were dancers at the Danbury, Conn. state fair.

One of the girls was in critical condition today at Phelps Memorial Hospital in Tarrytown. She was Linda Larigiere, 19. Her sister Suzanne, 18, was in fair condition at Putnam Community Hospital.

Konyu was at West Point Hospital with a concussion and broken ankle. Police said Konyu lost control of his car at about 75-90 m.p.h. "and wrapped it around a telephone pole."

Supreme Court Opening Today With New Justice and Brawl

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court opens a busy term today with a new chief justice while a fight roars in the Senate over the man picked to fill the vacant chair to his extreme left.

The new chief, Warren E. Burger, and seven holdover justices face decisions on such controversial matters as churches' tax exemptions, use of the death penalty, the priority drafting of war protesters and the rights of Negroes and the underprivileged.

But following tradition, the opening session is brief and really with little substance. About 75 lawyers are admitted to practice and Burger and his colleagues adjourn to a week-long series of private conferences on about 600 appeals that have piled up since last Spring. The first round of decisions—hundreds of them—will be announced next Monday.

Figuratively at least, the justices are looking over their shoulders to the Senate where President Nixon's nomination of Judge Clement F. Haynsworth is in serious trouble.

Haynsworth, picked by Nixon and Atty. Gen. John N. Mitchell in August to succeed Abe Fortas last May, has run into rigid opposition from labor, liberal and civil rights groups. Some of them have accused the federal appeals court judge of unethical judicial behavior, an allegation that takes on deeper meaning since it was an ethics flap that brought about Fortas' resignation last May.

The Senate Judiciary Committee meets Wednesday, possibly for an initial vote. The nomination appears to have the support of most conservative Republicans and Democrats, but liberals and moderates have been asserting their opposition in growing numbers.

Whatever happens, it is undoubted that the court will have to operate with a vacancy for at least several weeks.

Burger, 62, is the 15th man to occupy the center chair in the Court's 179 year history. He takes over for Earl Warren, who was chief justice for 16 years.

Picketing Adds to Strife Of Hendrick Hudson Hotel

TROY, N.Y. (AP) — The

Hendrick Hudson Hotel, troubled in recent days with safety inspections and fires, Sunday night was picketed by persons claiming the hotel was unsafe.

About 20 or 25 persons, most of them residents of the hotel, carried signs proclaiming the building and the fire escapes were not safe. Everett Rancourt, acting general manager of the hotel, said.

He said he issued a statement to the demonstrators saying the hotel was "100 per cent safe."

About 60 students from Hudson Valley Community College live in the hotel.

In recent days, at least three fires have been reported at the hotel. The most recent occurred Saturday, hours after the hotel passed an inspection and fire officials termed the fire in a closet "suspicious."

Fire Chief Edward Zapf said arson investigations continued. Friday flames caused about $200,000 damage to the hotel's ballroom and forced some 100 guests to flee the eight-story building.

After a minor fire in late September, fire officials noted several violations which were ordered corrected. Firemen said many of these were among the 18 violations noted after Friday's blaze. The hotel then was given 24 hours to correct all 18. The closet where Saturday's fire broke out had been ordered cleaned.

Firemen Saturday were called by telephone because the hotel fire alarm system was not working properly. It also had been on the list of safety violations.

Manager of M-W Honored at Testimonial

KINGSTON

A recent testimonial dinner held at Oehler's Mountain Lodge honored Max L. Shoff of Hurley, manager of Montgomery Ward, Kingston on the occasion of his 40th anniversary with the company.

More than 150 friends, business associates and employees of Montgomery Ward, including a 30-man delegation from Metro District Office, Albany, headed by Samuel S. Burgio, Metro District manager, attended. Burgio served as master of ceremonies and read several messages from friends and associates including a personal letter from U.S. Secretary of Commerce Maurice Stance and a telegram from Gov. Rockefeller.

A highlight of the evening was a telephone address by Montgomery Ward President Edward S. Donnell from Chicago. Daniel F. Sullivan, store operating manager presented the guest of honor with a portrait of Shoff and his youngest daughter, Karen, who is a student at Kent University, Ohio.

Also attending the surprise testimonial were a married daughter from Long Island, a son and daughter-in-law from Liverpool, Ohio; his mother and father-in-laws from Olean, Shoff's hometown; a married sister and a sister and brother-in-law from Rochester.

Shoff, prior to assuming his position at Kingston served as manager in five other stores and had been district manager for North and South Carolina, Alabama, Georgia and Florida.

Wiedy's Sets Grand Opening Of Dutchess County Store

TOWN OF POUGHKEEPSIE—The Wiedy Furniture Co., Inc., which operates a store on Route 28, today observed the grand opening of its new store at 394 Vassar Road, Town of Poughkeepsie, which has 35,000 square feet of floor space and is considered one of the largest in the area.

The new store has 12 model rooms with all furnishings set up throughout the new establishment.

In observance of the grand opening of the store in the Dutchess County community, a special sale in the Poughkeepsie and Kingston areas stores is featured with every item being offered to patrons at reduced prices.

Edward Wiederspiel Sr., is president of the popular furniture company. His sons, Bruce and Edward are vice presidents, and his wife, Marie is secretary of the firm.

MAGNETIC CARD—A new concept in electric typewriters designed to help minimize paperwork problems has been announced by V. F. Coughlin, IBM Office Products Division manager in Poughkeepsie. Called the IBM Selectric typewriter, this new machine operates on a unique principle enabling the secretary to capture each page of her typing on Mylar-based magnetic cards identical to the familiar punched cards widely in use today. These cards have a capacity of 5,000 typed characters, which is equivalent to more than a full page of copy. An important advantage of the Mag Card Selectric is that it eliminates the frustrations caused by time-consuming erasures. Changes in text can be made without manually retyping the entire page. Secretary is shown inserting a magnetic card into small console of the IBM Mag Card Selectric typewriter alongside her desk. The machine types out the error-free page at a speed of 150 words per minute.

DELEGATE—Robert W. Vogt, C.I.U., of Hurley has qualified to attend a 4-day conference at the Concord Hotel, Lake Kiamasha, for his outstanding performance in a contest of Monarch Life Insurance Co. He placed with the top 15 among Monarch's nationwide field force in the sale of life and health insurance. The conference will be held Oct. 16-19. Vogt, who works out of the Albany office under Thomas W. Despart, general agent, also will be honored at an awards banquet, and will tour West Point Academy and attend the Army-Utah State football game. Monarch ranks third nationally in non-cancellable health insurance and in the top 8 per cent of life insurance companies. Vogt resides in Hurley with his wife, Mary Lou, and four children.

IBM PLANNER—Promotion of Richard A. Jones to senior planner in the Kingston laboratory of the IBM Systems Development Division has been announced by Joseph L. Brown, laboratory director. Jones will be responsible for the product planning of alphanumeric displays. He joined IBM in 1953 in Poughkeepsie, was transferred to Kingston as project engineer in thin film technology in 1957, and in 1962 received his master's degree in mechanical engineering under the IBM Resident Study Program. He received a bachelor of science degree in mechanical engineering at Syracuse University and he also holds a professional engineer license in New York State. He, his wife, Joan, and their five sons reside in Red Hook.

KINGSTON, NEW YORK, OCTOBER 6, 1969

Personality and Driving

Good driving can be taught. Not just mechanically good driving, but controlled safe driving. Dr. Harry J. Woehr, an industrial clinical psychologist, found a definite correlation between personality traits and driving records.

This explains why young people, physically dexterous and mentally alert, cause most traffic violations. This is due to their impulsiveness and aggression, rather than driving ability.

"Anger and hostility, with poor emotional control, could be a large contributing factor in speed and traffic violations which produce accidents," Woehr concludes, and he adds, "Don't drive when you're upset is a good rule to remember."

A good driver must have conscious control of his emotions. Anger and anxiety could be signs of danger and helpful emotions. But control of the emotions must be achieved to make a good driver. It is not only young drivers who must control their emotions at the wheel. Accident-prone drivers of all ages must not pass off emotions as a source of their frequent accidents.

The Grass Curtain

Some people say the Secret Service has dropped a grass curtain across the 2,000-mile Mexican-American border with its minute inspection of nearly two million people at border stations for drugs. Travelers were forced to strip off their clothes, but only 33 persons were arrested and 405 seizures of unspecified amounts of drugs made.

The inspectors are not measuring their success by the number of seizures made or amount of drugs taken into custody. They are positive they are stopping narcotics from coming into the country because their work has dried up the drug traffic. Proof is the zooming cost of heroin, marijuana and other drugs. The cost has gone beyond the means of most young people in America. If true, their claim of success is merited.

Searching everyone and everything crossing the border has taken much time, effort, manpower and money. The big smugglers are laying low while zealous inspections last. The hope of parents and youth counselors is that it will not let up and allow the traffic to resume again.

The first Thanksgiving and its site have been the cause of rivalry for years. Virginia claims the first Thanksgiving was conducted by Capt. John Woodliffe and 38 Englishmen when they landed at Berkeley Grant near Charles City in 1619 and the Virginians will celebrate this 350th anniversary in November. Plymouth, Massachusetts, claims it was the site of the first Thanksgiving by the Puritans in 1621. The Berkeley Plantation's invitation to President Nixon to speak there Nov. 3 puts him on the spot.

The first occupation of a campus building in the new academic year, was met with the arrest of all 106 demonstrators and one professor at the University of Michigan. No coddling there. Similar firm responses could stop rebellions in their tracks.

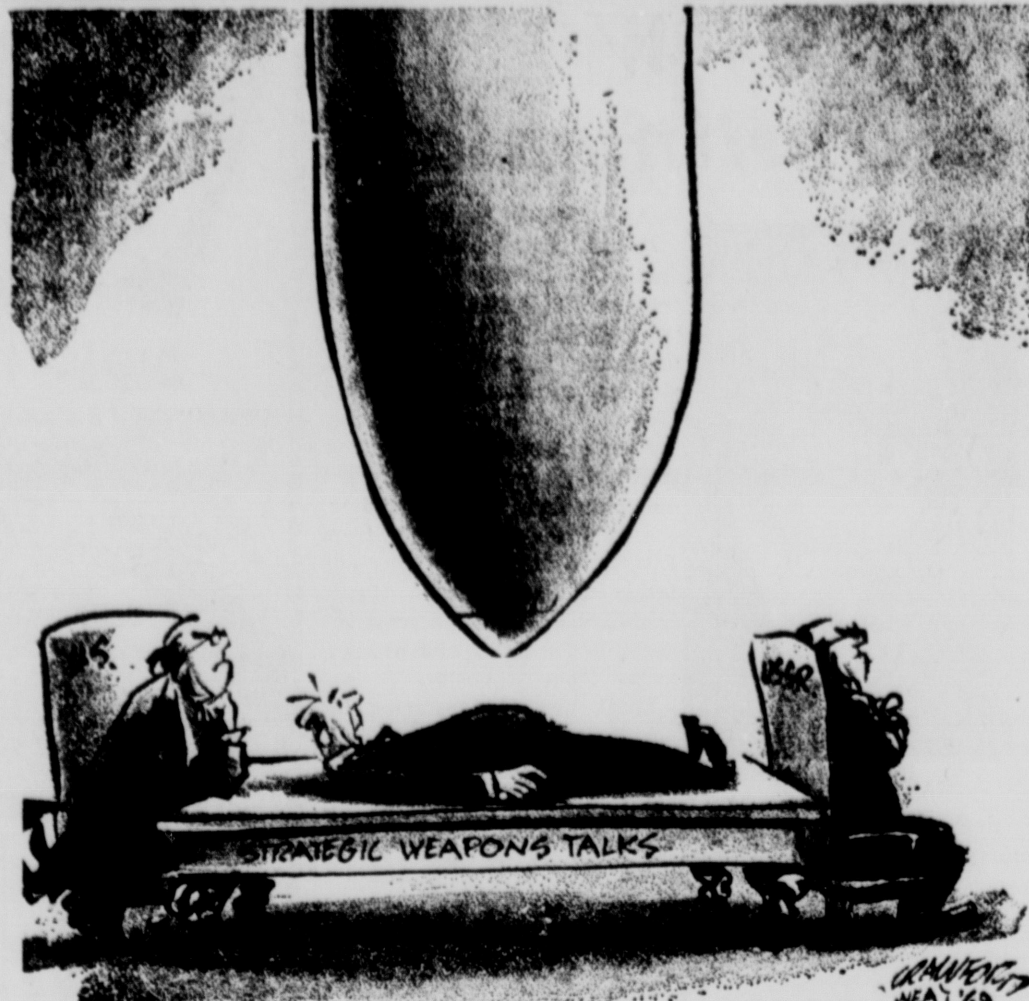

The Penn Central's three-day fast Metroliner trips between New York and Washington will be increased to six a day Oct. 26; and to nine round trips daily before the end of the year. That is proof positive that the public will respond to fast, comfortable rail passenger service.

David Lawrence Says Congress Playing With Fire On Troop Withdrawal Issue

WASHINGTON — Which is better — short-range politics or long-range patriotism? This question is pertinent now, and it concerns not only the future of the United States but the destiny of other countries as well.

Too many members of Congress are playing with fire. They are, in effect, telling the enemy that America is ready to raise the white flag in Vietnam before the end of 1970. It seems incredible that a small group from both parties in Congress is demanding that President Nixon announce that the withdrawal of American forces from Vietnam would be completed in 15 months, even though the enemy meanwhile makes no concessions whatsoever.

General Lewis W. Walt, assistant commandant of the Marine Corps, said in a speech Thursday night that he believes the Vietnam War would have been ended a year ago if it were not for the "voice of dissent" in this country. He added the Communists have judged this to be the "voice of the American people," he declared.

"In the past year, over 10,000 Americans have been killed in Vietnam. Those who dissent may not have fired the rifle or thrown the grenade, but they must bear a part of the responsibility for the loss of those gallant Americans."

If merely a problem of domestic politics were involved, certainly it would seem more popular to end a war than to keep one going indefinitely. But there's more to the issue. The United States may find itself in the midst of a major war within the next two or three years, and this could conceivably provoke the use of nuclear weapons in Asia with possible attacks against the United States.

Despite the outward appearance of friendship between Moscow and Washington, North Vietnam is directly sponsored by the Soviet Union. It will be recalled that Arthur Goldberg, former American ambassador to the United Nations, pointed out in a speech during the last few months of the Johnson administration that the Soviet Union, not Vietnam, is "the greatest threat" to the United States. He said Americans have "too long taken their eyes away from the main ball game."

President Nixon assumed a big risk when he began withdrawing troops without getting any concessions at the Paris Peace Conference. President Johnson took a similar chance when he halted the bombing of North Vietnam. In both instances the United States was treated with scorn by the Hanoi government. Not a single sign has appeared to indicate that total withdrawal of American troops would bring an end of the war in Vietnam.

What could happen is that, as soon as the American forces have pulled out, the massacre of the South Vietnamese would begin. The whole world would witness how the supposedly most powerful nation in the world abandoned a small country and rendered valueless the sacrifices of the past few years by Americans and South Vietnamese.

Politics today is on the side of surrender — at least that is the way various members of Congress interpret public opinion. It remains to be seen what the American people would say about a pullout from Vietnam if the consequences should prove to be grave. The Wall Street Journal, in an editorial the other day commenting on the possible results of an American withdrawal from Vietnam, said:

"The Communists would take over South Vietnam by military force, which would be a cheap enough price if the international effects stop there. But just as the American debacle at the Bay of Pigs helped prompt the Soviet initiatives leading to the Cuban missile crisis, so we expect American defeat in Vietnam would encourage the adventurous throughout the Communist world. We do not know whether the next crisis would break out in Thailand, Berlin, South America or elsewhere, but we do feel that over the long run a show of American irresolution is likely to result in worse crises, not easier ones."

There is again talk that the United States need not become involved in any wars overseas — as if world events are controlled by America alone. But what would happen when our potential adversaries decide to invade other countries in Europe and Asia? Inevitably, America would be drawn into a major war. This could conceivably result from attacks on American vessels in the waters of the Pacific or Southeast Asia. It seems likely that if the United States is drawn into a larger war in Asia, the opportunity would not be overlooked by Moscow to try to strengthen its hand in Eastern Europe, and perhaps even encourage East Germany to try to take over West Germany.

Jim Bishop: Reporter

Now is the time when all good boatmen begin to haul their craft out of water and set them up on cradles for the winter. A boat always looks bigger out of the water. Water, which keeps the wooden planks swollen tight, is missing and the wood shrinks through the long winter. To a degree, the cradle even alters the shape of the hull.

I have been an incurable, lousy boatman all my life. Once infected there is no cure. When I was a schoolboy, my mother gave me ferry fare to New York so that I could roam the decks of the big transatlantic liners — looking, examining, but not touching. There were giants like the Berengaria, the Olympic, Vaterland, the original Mauretania, Aquitania, Kronland, Celtic, Manhattan, Bremen, and dozens of others which, in my mind, I sailed to faraway ports without ever leaving the dock.

Each had a personality of its own. The Berengaria, for example, was huge and stiff and could not forgive a mistake in wind or tide when backing out. The old Mauretania was built like a yacht. She raked up 27 knots and left a white bridal veil behind her which stretched all the way to the horizon.

I grew up and the gallant ships died one by one. The kid who had never sailed on them wept at their passing because they were like people one gets to know. So, when I moved to Sea Bright, N.J., I had the sea dunes across the street in front of the house and the Shrewsbury River behind it. I bought my own ocean liners and sailed them all.

The first was a 24-foot boat. It was called Away We Go, named after a fat friend of mine. But boatmen are never satisfied. All of them aspire to a slightly bigger boat so I bought a Richardson 31-footer and called it Away We Go II. It was a lovely boat — not fast but very ladylike in a heavy sea.

However, I began to notice that everybody else had a flying bridge and I had none, so I turned it in for a 35-footer called — yep — the third. The engines were too weak so I sent it right back to Point Pleasant, N.J., and got a 35-footer with flying bridge and stronger engines. This one had scat. She could sail serenely in a big groundswell, rising and falling like a lady curtsying to a queen. My daughter Gayle was first mate and we kept this boat at long time.

Recently, daughters number three and four began to agitate for me to give the boat to Nova University in Florida for their nautical research work. They needed a well-equipped 35-footer. I am not quite that generous. I argued. I sulked. I fought. I gave the boat to Nova.

But under one solitary condition to which my wife agreed with tears in her eyes. Instead of buying a larger boat, I would buy one a foot smaller and it would be second-hand. After all, I write about boating now and then and I kept hollering that it was important to my work. The women looked at each other and shrugged.

So I went to see Jack Haley, at the Richard Bertram Company in Miami. There is a sneaky reason for this. This is the off-season for boats in Florida and they lay in the marinas like floating oranges. So Mr. Haley and I had several heart-to-heart talks and I showed no interest in a 34-foot Hatteras boat because that is the one I wanted.

"What do you want for that hunk of junk?" I said, pointing. He said I couldn't afford it. I went aboard and, on the flying bridge, saw the array of red lights which will tell a ship's captain when there is water in the bilges, or gasoline fumes, loose oil, low fuel, even running lights not functioning.

"Try me," I said. He tried me. I fainted and he revived me with the air conditioning in the cabin. I offered him less. He smiled and came down $500. "And paint it," I said. "No," he said. "Okay," I said, "put the name on the back of it in gold."

"What name?" he said. I told him I would like to name it for a wife who is more beautiful than any boat. Kellyo. We shook hands. The children are now taking baloney skin sandwiches to school.

There is, as I said, no cure for a boatman. But believe me when I say that Kellyo is the last — both boat and woman.

Jack Anderson Says President Nixon Intends to Keep His Options Open on Vietnam

WASHINGTON — Chewing over the Vietnam war with aides, President Nixon has indicated that his "period of conciliation" may run out in December. If he doesn't hear an encouraging word from Hanoi before Christmas, he may halt the troops withdrawal and perhaps, even step up the war.

The President won't accept mute signs, such as the dramatic drop in enemy infiltration. The movement of North Vietnamese troops down the infiltration routes has virtually ceased during the past few weeks.

While he concedes this may be a signal that Hanoi is willing to end the war, he won't engage in guessing games over the enemy's intentions. The communists will have to lay out their concessions on the Paris truce table if they expect him to continue the American pullout.

The President emphasized, in his private remarks, that he intends to keep his options open.

Meanwhile, he is beginning to lose patience with his war critics, particularly those who favor what he calls "bug-out resolutions." Without mentioning them by name, he referred, clearly, to Sen. Charles Goodell, R-N.Y., and Rep. Don Riegle, R-Mich., who want the U.S. unilaterally to halt the Vietnam war effort by the end of 1970.

"Don't they realize they may be prolonging the war?" demanded the President. "What's wrong with ending the war before December 1970?"

Early Peace? He would "very much like" to settle the war sooner, he said, but the communists would never negotiate if they knew the Americans were going to lay down their guns and leave Vietnam at the close of next year.

"We may as well bring our negotiators back home," he snorted. The President is also annoyed with critics who keep asking about his "secret" plan to end the war.

"The plan is what you see in action," he said impatiently. He referred to his efforts to de-escalate and "Vietnamize" the war. This has already resulted, he said, in lower casualties, troops withdrawals and reduced draft calls.

He is trying to convince Hanoi, he added, that he has no intention of presiding over an American defeat and, at the same time, that he is not striving for victory over North Vietnam.

"If the critics know any way to get Hanoi to listen," said Nixon, "I would appreciate their suggestions."

He complained that the critics were hurting meaningful negotiations.

"Everytime we have hopes that Hanoi will make a reciprocal proposal," he grumped, "the Hanoi negotiator quotes some Senator as evidence that the President doesn't have the U.S. behind him."

Elephant Fodder

For narrow-minded Democratic taxpayers who object to helping pay the salaries of Republican advance men, it may be newsworthy that the GOP is now signing up congressional aides as campaign workers.

Illinois Republican Robert Michel, who heads a new campaign group called Republicans Speak on Vital Problems, has circularized the "Bull Elephants," 600 staff members of House Republicans.

In a letter not meant for Democratic eyes, Michel tells glowingly of the GOP's program to send visiting Congressmen into districts where the Democrats have a tough fight coming up in 1970.

"To make these visits a success," he writes, "we need a number of tonight advance men to precede the panels into these districts, conferring with local party leaders, setting up the agenda for the visits, arranging for press conferences, etc. And that's where you come in."

He promised that the campaign committee "will pick up the tab on all your expenses, of course."

Of course, but the Democrats will share equally in paying the salaries of the 16 traveling "elephants." Some congressional staffers make well over $20,000 a year, all federal pay.

The "elephants," in preparing the way for the coming Congressmen, will be expected to trumpet the party message in Iowa, Wisconsin, New Jersey, Montana, Ohio, Indiana, Colorado and Illinois.

Only a year ago, the Republicans criticized Sen. Ted Kennedy for permitting seven of his staffers to work on the presidential campaign of his brother, Sen. Robert Kennedy. Now the fodder is in the other stall. The "elephants" on the road will be feeding upon donkey hay.

GOP Tattletale

At least one black man is playing backstage politics with Harry Dent, darling of the Dixiecrats, who left Sen. Strom Thurmond, R-S.C., to become the chief political strategist in the White House.

One of Dent's political informants is Connie Mack Higgins, a Negro loyal to the GOP, who is in charge of executive recruitment at the Small Business Administration. He has reported to Dent the names of government officials whom he has heard make anti-Republican remarks.

In one letter to Dent, Higgins charged that Dr. A.L. DeMond of the Office of Education had remarked: "We've got the wrong administration but we've got the right Congress."

Added Higgins darkly: "In the course of my running into Dr. DeMond, he made several other quotes which I will not repeat at this time."

Higgins also quoted Leon Cox, Jr., a Veterans Administration loan officer, as telling a seminar: "You could write letters to the President or you could write letters to the Veterans Administration, but better yet, why don't you wait until 1972 and write to a Democratic President?"

Declared Higgins with righteous Republican wrath: "I'm getting pretty ticked off with these Democratic holdovers who, if they do feel hostility toward the President, could at least have the decency to keep their mouths shut in public."

"If not, Mr. Dent, maybe someone there at the White House could take the initiative and could do a nice clean job of purging the holdovers, both black and white."

IRS Agents Dog Tax Dodgers

By MARY ELLEN RIDDLE

(NEA Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON (NEA) — Richard Nossen leaned back in the chair and crossed his arms contentedly.

"Our tax system," he said, "is a voluntary one. This is the only country I know of where almost everybody pays his taxes without someone coming to collect them."

Nossen has a good reason for being happy about the way Americans respond to the annual letter from the Internal Revenue Service: He is one of the men responsible for finding the people who don't pay their taxes.

He works in a monolithic building here (so big that each of the hallways is painted in a different brilliant headache-causing color so the employees don't get lost) as a staff assistant in the intelligence division of IRS.

"Maybe it's not voluntary in the sense that people want to pay their taxes," he admitted after a little prodding about fines and prisons, "but we have to go out and collect only three per cent of all federal taxes. The rest just comes in."

Collecting that three per cent is what keeps 1,800 Internal Revenue special agents busy. According to Nossen, their work assures honest taxpayers that the people who are not paying their share don't get away with it.

These pencil-pushing James Bonds comb newspaper articles, convince unwary secretaries to hand over financial records, subpoena bank account records and lurk in bushes, looking for proof that their suspects are making more money than shows up on their tax forms.

And they get into some weird situations.

Like figuring out how much money a house for shady ladies was making by multiplying the average cost for services by the number of towels delivered to the house each day.

Or placing a series of bets to bust a bookie.

Their work leads the agents into the underworld because criminals involved in illegal businesses do not report the profits they make from gambling, drug sales, prostitution, extortion, murder and arson. But these ill-gotten gains are income and subject to taxation.

That's how it happened, back in the '30s, that Elliot Ness, an IRS agent, got Al Capone on tax evasion when police had been unable to prove his connection with anything else.

In many IRS cases, the only crime involved is the tax evasion itself. All kinds of people, Nossen said, from doctors and lawyers to maids and headwaiters, have been convicted of cheating on their taxes.

Ironically, most of their leads into the most scrupulously disguised evasions come from the daily newspapers.

Agents check to see if the man who reported that $50,000 was taken from a wall safe in his home reported an income that large. And they want to know why he didn't keep such a large sum in a bank.

Nossen held up a sharpened pencil. "This is our ultimate weapon," he said. Proof of tax evasion is usually found by examining ledgers, adding long columns of figures and looking for erasures or other suspicious alterations in financial records.

That's how they caught a doctor who had been working on his books as well as his patients for 10 years. The agents found that more than $90,000 had been "lost" somewhere between the doctor's wallet and his ledger book.

Peace Talks: A Stone Wall

By RAY CROMLEY

(NEA Washington Correspondent)

WASHINGTON (NEA) — In private, White House men admit to growing frustration in Paris.

Their unhappiness is reminiscent of the Korean truce talks at Panmunjom when there would be months during which American negotiators felt as though they were talking to posts stuck in the ground.

Hear then how these Nixon aides feel:

Every negotiation turns into an examination by the other side into the adequacy of their 10 points and the impression is created that we were going to be given grades by them on how closely we come to acceptance of the 10 points.

In effect, what Hanoi continues to ask us is that we withdraw unconditionally and on the way out overthrow the Thieu government and establish a coalition between the National Liberation Front and the nonorganized, non-Communist groups in Vietnam.

The gist of Hanoi's proposal is that we should break the back of the organized non-Communist forces, after which they will have a coalition with the nonorganized, non-Communist forces.

Now, since the organized, non-Communist forces are having their problems, the possibility of the nonorganized, non-Communist forces representing a counterweight is not very great. That is not a negotiating position. That is a demand for surrender.

In fact, we have heard nothing from Hanoi to suggest anything other than that they insist on their maximum program and that they might consider giving us a fig leaf to obscure things.

The thing that has been missing in these talks thus far is a conviction on the part of Hanoi that a compromise settlement is indicated.

They seem to be basing their strategy on the conviction that they can either erode American public support or that they can drive a wedge between Saigon and Washington. Then the fig leaf to cover our shame.

Words don't seem to be a very useful means of communication with the Hanoi men in Paris. But then how do you talk with anyone who shows no signs of any willingness to compromise on any issue. Where do you start? How do you come to grips?

There are those who say that we should come up with new proposals. But one ought to consider that if the other side knows that every deadlock will elicit a new proposal, it will never have an incentive for making a settlement.

If to get things going one must always, inevitably, come up with new proposals, then one is on a slope in which there is no ending except to yield to the other side.

These frustrations are leading increasingly to a conviction among some high administration men that real settlement must come in Vietnam, not Paris.

Postal Reorganization
Editor, The Freeman

In taking exception to your editorial "Postal Reorganization" appearing in a recent issue, may I point out that the story given is not completely truthful in that it leaves much unsaid.

Your editorial states that top officials, both past and present, have been sounding the alarm for a postal reorganization vigorously for several years. The employees, too, have been sounding off in quest of this same reorganization and up-dating of the service for many more years—with very few paying attention.

Now that the newspapers of the nation have set up an impressive committee with a war chest of more than $100,000 dollars and have hired such impressive persons as former Postmaster General Larry O'Brien and former Senator National GOP Chairman Thruston Morton to lead their fight for a corporation we feel all the facts should be told. Messrs. O'Brien and Morton have been cajoling, pleading, and pressuring mayors, governors and local politicians into supporting their corporation concept by lending their names to a rather impressive list of Health, Education & Welfare, supposed supporters. By the way, of late this list is growing smaller as early supporters begin to realize the full and complete meaning of the Postal Corporation movement.

Your editorial mentions the saving of $1 billion annually by the government corporation. A saving to whom? Who is the government—but the people the taxpayer, the postal patron. The postal patron using the mails will be paying, at the very least, a dime to mail today's 6 cents letter, within 2 years time. Many of the low priced, subsidized educational rates will become extinct in the scurry to show that the business is paying for itself. Many, small post offices, the rural citizen's only contact with the government will cease to function in the name of economy. Our research shows that many small businesses, hiring thousands of craftsmen will fold due to lack of business brought about by ever increasing rates. This business (advertising) presumably will be gobbled up by the newspapers of the country. Some of the services carried out so many years, as a service, by the post office would certainly be discontinued as being costly but non revenue producers.

You condemn politics in the Post Office—well, what about politics in Internal Revenue, administration who made before the election many promises to government employees on better conditions—better labor management relations by executive order. None of which has appeared in more than 9 months. In fact most legislation favoring postal employees has been forced into the dusty files until the Administration can get favorable action on its postal corporation.

In several of your articles favoring a postal corporation in the past you never did mention the real reason for the support of the newspapers for the Postal Corporation Concept. Why not be fair enough to tell your reading public of the principal reason of contributions to the War Chest for promotion of a Postal Corporation, and the use of your editorial columns touting it. We suggest that they (newspapers) are looking for more preferential treatment than they now already receive.

If the Post Office must become a corporation to be self sustaining instead of remaining as a service to the public, I say, why not a self-sustaining Kingston Library; why not a Fire Corporation charging fees to fight fires; why not a police department to charge fees based on costs for the services they perform; as far as that goes, why not a pay as you go corporation for the entire school system—writing off the expenses only to those who use the schools? Can't you just imagine a fee to the fire dept. based on costs of operation—to answer an alarm—who could afford a fire at today's prices?

As far as postal fiscal problems being solved by taking funding authority away from Congress and giving it to an all-powerful board of directors of this corporation—we can't believe that this is any more practical than the present. Borrowing power of this board would be almost unlimited—proposing to raise the funds by issuing bonds (not guaranteed by the government). Who will dare to invest in such an undertaking of unguaranteed bonds unless, of course, the interest rate is high enough to warrant the great risk?

We employees of the Post Office are sure that if all the facts are allowed to get to John Q. Taxpayer in time—that there will be an hue and cry of outrage to Congress. We hope you agree that the American public, as well as yourself, is entitled to know more than just one side of this tremendously important question. I have sent you releases in the past trying to give our view point and unfortunately, while you did publish the covering letter, the article found its way into the waste basket and not the columns of your paper.

Again, expecting a FAIR PLAY in exposing the public to the truth I am enclosing the entire world — Russia as another release—which I hope to read in your columns as space allows.

Thanking you for this consideration

Sincerely and gratefully
LEO A. SCHUPP

Conservationist Views

To be actively engaged in guerilla-type conservation work involves reminding the citizens of this nation, and of other nations, of practically every dangerous condition and area in our nation, and on our planet. It just can't be saving our forests, our wetlands, our breathable air, our potable water, our wild rivers, our hills and majestic mountains, on the continent or in Alaska and Hawaii — slaughtered wildlife, minerals, fish, all forms of useful insects. In order for man to survive and make it possible for his progeny to do likewise, all professions, all ages, the poor and the moneyed, must be repeatedly warned of what is lying directly ahead of us all.

To save our Hudson, conservationists must attack the activities and actions of the governor of the state, as well as protect and defend the country — and message-singer publicizing the condition of America, our state, and also the entire world — Russia as another release—which I hope Rockefeller is just now under attack and criticism from too, in true colors — Albany legislators for taking over powers that belong to them. And high time! Wonder if they can cut in at this late date, following their interviews with meaningful conservationists who have deplored do so at 1,800 miles per hour! Isn't all of this the sick dreams of a dying species?

Sincerely,
M. EVANS ISAACS

"Nixon's War"

Editor, The Freeman
In Thursday's editorial you disagreed with Senator Goodell's proposal for a complete withdrawal from Vietnam. In view of this, I don't believe your claim to "support the eventual complete removal of our men from Vietnam?"

Since Nixon has become President, about ten thousand Americans have died in Vietnam. Just how many more would you like to see?

October 15 is the anniversary of the death of Nguyen Van Troi, the South Vietnamese hero and martyr. It will be celebrated this year by a nationwide protest against Nixon's War and by calling for the immediate withdrawal of our troops from Vietnam. What will you be doing for peace on that day?

Sincerely,
RONALD SOBIERAJ

Auto Safety Topic at KHS On Tuesday

KINGSTON member and a policeman will take turns at the wheel of a specially equipped car — and they'll bring it to an emergency stop while traveling at 20, 30, or 40 miles an hour. Other students will check the results.

The car is equipped so that distances can be measured. A signal light is mounted on the front of the car and three pistols are fastened to the front bumper. Aimed straight at the pavement, the pistols fire bullets of yellow paint which mark points at which the driver (1) sees the signal, (2) slams on the brakes, and (3) stops the car.

The automobile is supplied by Nationwide Insurance. A safety engineer for the firm will ride beside the driver and operate the equipment. Nationwide engineers have staged similar Traffic Safety Education programs before more than 7,000 student groups throughout the United States.

Tuesday's demonstration will be preceded by a student assembly during which students will be briefed on the program and hear an illustrated talk on the importance of driver attitudes. Evans said the assembly will begin at 9:30 and the test will follow about 20 minutes later on parking lot just behind the school.

Twenty and Ten Years Ago

Oct. 6, 1949 — The state took another step toward actual start of main construction work on the Broadway crossing elimination project yesterday, when it opened bids for the major contract. Lipsett Inc., of New York City, submitted the low bid of $897,925.75.

Mrs. Clarence T. Voss, one of the best known golfers in the state and one-time holder of the Women's Northeastern New York Golf Association championship, died Wednesday at Benedictine Hospital.

Oct. 6, 1959 — Saugerties Village board Monday night granted 10 days for filing information on two petitions, one for and another against granting a change of zoning for the Chester Bonesteel property now in a residential section.

A local banking official today took exception to proposals made at the Kingston Board of Education Consolidated meeting on how to earn $20,000 per year on its bank deposits.

4 Persons Hurt, Vehicle Hits A Felled Pole

LAKE KATRINE Four persons were injured early today when the car in which they were riding ran into a pole that had been felled across the Glenford-Wittenberg Road, according to Kingston State Police.

The vehicle was operated by Jeffrey Lane, 21, of Bearsville. He and passengers in the car, Betsy Lane, 23, Jeffrey Lane Jr., 2 and Frederick Lane, were all taken to Benedictine Hospital by Patum's Ambulance and treated for contusions and abrasions. Details of the mishap were incomplete, troopers said.

whose assistant prosecutor Gabriel Bach, helped prosecute Nazi war criminal Adolf Eichmann eight years ago, asked police deputy David Offer to read to the court a confession police said Rohan gave them after the Aug. 21 fire in Israeli-occupied East Jerusalem.

Arrest Woman on Assault Charge

ROSENDALE Accused of assaulting another woman with a candle holder at Dorothy Gladstone of Box 353B, Route 4, Kingston, was arrested by Kingston State Police on a charge of second degree assault.

The woman allegedly hit Grace Schmidt, 45, of Rosendale, on the face with the candle holder during a dispute, authorities said. The victim of the alleged assault was taken to Benedictine Hospital where 12 sutures were taken to close lacerations of the face.

The Rosendale woman was taken to Kingston Hospital where one suture closed a cut of the head.

Arraigned before Kingston Town Justice Robert Ferrigan, the accused woman pleaded innocent. She was released in custody of her mother and hearing was adjourned until Oct. 15.

Rohan's lawyer, Yitzhak Tuhik, offered no objection but Rohan waved his arms and gesticulated from behind a bulletproof glass screen similar to that which protected Eichmann.

Judge Henry F. Baker asked Rohan what he wanted. He said he wanted the confession read in English rather than Hebrew. Rohan put on headphones to hear the English translation of the Hebrew language charges against him, then denied them through his lawyer.

The trial, in a hall for chamber music, opened under security precautions nearly as tight as those for Eichmann. Rohan, wearing a grey suit, was brought in handcuffed to a policeman.

Rieley Stays On Ballot

KINGSTON It was announced today that Thomas Rieley, Conservative candidate with Republican endorsement for county legislator in Kingston, would remain on the ballot for this November's election.

In a joint statement issued by Conservative Party City Chairman Robert Hardwick and Republican Party City Chairman Melvin Mones, it was explained that Rieley's plans for moving from Kingston are still ambiguous and not firmly established. It was stressed that Rieley will be a candidate and will take office if elected.

2 Conn. Men Arrested for Weapon in Car

ELLENVILLE Two Connecticut men were cited by State Police on Sunday on charges of having a loaded shotgun in their car after they were stopped for a routine check on Route 209 in the Town of Wawarsing.

Troopers identified the men as Pietro A. Iacobelli, 39, and Antonio Chiaie, 34, of North Haven, Conn.

Taken before Rochester Town Justice Abram D. Smith, Chiaie paid $27.50 in civil compromise for a violation of the State Conservation Law. Both men, who were said to be aliens, were given conditional discharges or suspended sentences — on charges of having the loaded gun in their car.

State WCTU Elects
CANANDAIGUA, N.Y. (UPI) — The New York State Women's Christian Temperance Union re-elected Mrs. Rachel S. Waters of Syracuse president Saturday at its 95th annual convention here.

Candidate Says Probation Plan Would Aid Youth

LOUIS M. KLEIN

TOWN OF ESOPUS

Louis M. Klein, Democratic and Conservative Party candidate for Esopus town justice, has announced that, if successful in his bid for election, he would establish a probation system in Esopus aimed at rehabilitating the youthful and first offender.

Klein said that at present the services of Ulster County Probation Department are available to Justice Courts of Ulster only for convictions of misdemeanors or crimes of a serious nature.

Klein said he believes that a probation system must be made available for lesser offenses, as well, since "an extremely large number of persons appearing in Justice Court are young persons charged with lesser offenses who can be rehabilitated."

The candidate said, "The primary purpose of a sentence rendered by a judge is to rehabilitate the wrongdoer. This is especially true where the wrongdoer is a juvenile or young adult who has many years of productive service to society ahead of him. Any judge owes it to his constituents to make every effort to rehabilitate such individuals, by supplying them needed guidance and supervision, and this is what a probation system is set up to accomplish. Not every violator can benefit from imprisonment. In fact, some might suffer irreparable harm as a result of being imprisoned. It is a judge's duty to determine which prisoners can be rehabilitated by spending time in prison, and which cannot. However, the fact that a person's character or background does not warrant a commitment to prison, does not necessarily mean he should escape all punishment, untouched by the arm of the law."

Klein advocates the establishment of a Probation Department for the Town of Esopus comprised of volunteers, who would serve without pay. Under his plan each volunteer would be indirectly responsible to the town justice making the referral, who in turn would supervise the rehabilitation process.

"Many well-qualified citizens of the Town of Esopus would lend their aid to such a program," he said. "Several persons with law-enforcement experience have already volunteered to participate."

Klein is a local attorney who was previously employed by the New York City Department of Probation.

Bond at Colgate

HAMILTON, N.Y. (AP)—Julian Bond, the Georgia State legislator whose name was placed in nomination as vice president at the 1968 Chicago Democratic national convention, is scheduled to speak Friday at Colgate University.

Bond's name was removed from the nominations because he was too young to meet the age requirements for the office.

He was refused a seat on the Georgia Legislature three years ago but the U.S. Supreme Court ordered him seated.

Financial and Commercial

NEW YORK (UPI)—Stocks opened mixed today in moderate turnover.

Shortly after the opening, the UPI marketwide indicator was off 0.02 per cent on 488 issues crossing the tape. There were 179 declines, and 171 advances.

Chemicals were mixed. Steels were slightly lower, while oils followed an irregular pattern.

In the chemicals, Allied Chemical dipped 1/4 to 25 1/2, with Eastman Kodak down 3/4 to 72 1/2, and Dow down 1/2 to 68 1/4. Du Pont gained 1/2 to 116 1/2, and Union Carbide 1/4 to 41 1/2.

U.S. Steel was unchanged at 36 1/4, but Bethlehem lost 1/4 to 28 1/2.

Occidental gave up 1/2 to 25 1/2 among the oils, while Mobil fell 1/4 to 56, and Standard of California 1/2 to 55 1/2. On the other hand, Natoms jumped 1 1/2 to 94 1/2, with Atlantic Richfield up 1/4 to 100 1/2, and Reading & Bates 1/2 higher to 37. Standard of Ohio rose 1/4 to 97 1/2.

In the electronics, National Cash Register rose 1/2 to 142 1/4, with RCA up 1/4 to 42 1/2. IBM dropped 1/4 to 343 1/2, and Litton 1/2 to 45 1/2.

Penn Central gained 1/2 to 34 in the rails.

Drivers Urged To Renew Through Mails

KINGSTON—Ulster County Clerk Albert Spada today urged all motorists within his jurisdiction whose auto registrations expire this month to renew by mail. Renewals should be mailed to the Motor Vehicle Department, County Office Building, 240 Fair Street, Kingston.

Spada said that drivers who prefer to renew in person may do so at the Kingston office. Those renewing in person should try to avoid certain busy periods when offices may be congested. The busy days, he said, are Mondays and Fridays. The busiest time is the lunch period, noon to 2 p.m., each day.

Spada reminded motorists to check their registrations now. If the registration expires this month, he said, renew immediately by mail. Anyone who does not receive a punch card renewal by Oct. 20 should immediately go to his nearest issuing office and renew in person.

Nixon Indian Policy Expected This Week

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Nixon administration plans to unveil this week its long-awaited Indian policy, promising continued federal protection while promoting greater freedom for American Indians to manage their own affairs.

Details were kept under tight wraps so they could be revealed first to the National Congress of American Indians, meeting this week at Albuquerque, N.M.

Vice President Spiro T. Agnew and Interior Secretary Walter J. Hickel, speak Wednesday, while Indian Affairs Commissioner Louis R. Bruce addresses the conference Thursday. They are expected to emphasize that the administration rejects the "termination" policy expressed in a 1953 congressional resolution, which aimed at ending federal trusteeship over reservations.

They also are expected to emphasize a greater role for Indians in determining the programs that affect their lives.

Along these lines, some administration sources think the Albuquerque convention may be the platform for announcement of the creation of an Indian Advisory Committee, as pledged by Hickel in August.

Regents Exams Set Wednesday

KINGSTON — The Regents scholarship examination will be given at Kingston High School Wednesday from 8:30 a. m. to 4 p. m.

Sophomores and juniors at Kingston High will be excused from class that day to give the 570 seniors registered for the exam adequate space and proper testing conditions.

Reasons for taking the test include: it is the admission test to all state university colleges; competition for the Regents college scholarships; eligibility for scholar incentive Awards; eligibility for Regents nursing scholarships; and eligibility for 57 scholarships awarded to students accepted at Cornell University.

Rev. Fosdick Dies, Was 91

NEW YORK (UPI) — To friends he was "the minister emeritus of all America"—to his foes, the "Jesse James of the theological world."

Rev. Harry Emerson Fosdick, the liberal first pastor of Riverside Church for two decades until retirement in 1946, died in a Bronxville, N.Y., hospital Sunday night at the age of 91.

The native of Buffalo, N.Y., had been hospitalized with a heart ailment for two weeks.

During a career which included an active retirement of lecturing and writing, he managed to alienate many conservative factions of the Protestant church while expounding liberal causes.

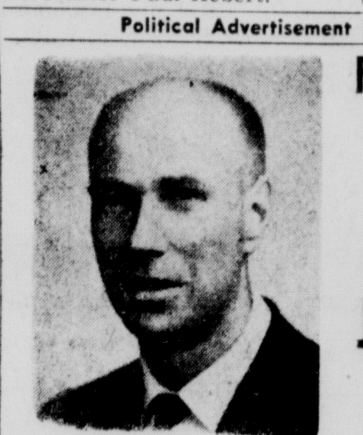

There will be a private service for the family this week. A memorial service at Riverside Church was planned at a later date.

Hurricane Inga Is Fading Fast Into Atlantic

MIAMI (UPI) — Hurricane Inga raced away from land areas into the open Atlantic today where it was expected to hit cold air and gradually diminish.

At 6 a. m. EDT the National Hurricane Center in Miami located the season's ninth tropical blow near latitude 33.8 north and longitude 56.0 west or about 510 miles east northeast of Bermuda. The hurricane was moving at 15 miles an hour toward the northeast with winds up to about 100 miles an hour.

"Colder air from the north is now moving into the circulation of the hurricane and should cause the winds to diminish gradually as it begins to lose tropical characteristics," said Forecaster Paul Hebert.

Plea for Police Aid Unheeded by Public

NEW YORK (UPI)—A "Signal 10-13" in New York will usually send police cars screaming to "assist patrolman" but if a policeman is off duty, moonlighting as a cabbie in a Bronx slum at 3:20 a. m. pleas for help go unheeded.

Patrolman Alfredo Rivera, 31, said Sunday at least a dozen people refused his continued pleas for help as he foiled a holdup attempt in his taxi.

Rivera, a six year police veteran, said he held the three robbers at gunpoint for 30 minutes shouting "call the police" to passersby and residents of the Puerto Rican neighborhood who looked out of their windows. They ignored him. Two passing detectives finally happened on the scene and help make the arrests. Like many fellow officers, Rivera, a Puerto Rican policeman who is assigned to the Bronx, supplements his income by driving a cab. At 3:20 a. m. he picked up two men and a woman who wanted to go to the Morrisania section of the Bronx.

When they arrived one man put a gun to the back of his neck, the other man hopped out of the cab and put a knife to his throat.

When they demanded money Rivera said he "had to do something" before they spotted his police badge in his shirt pocket. He felt the robbers would kill him if they knew he was a policeman.

He told the suspects the car was in gear and he received their permission to put the transmission into neutral. Suddenly Rivera grabbed his service revolver, punched the man with the knife, and knocked the gun, which turned out to be a toy, out of the other man's hand.

The woman, who had sat silently in the cab, and the two men were held at gunpoint by Rivera while he called out to residents to call the police. "They refused," he said.

He said the suspects tried to flee twice, but a warning shot from his gun brought them back to the cab.

At least 10 pedestrians passed and other people looked out from apartment windows, but none helped. After 30 minutes the two plainclothesmen, who knew Rivera, offered assistance.

Doctor O.K.'s This Hemorrhoid Treatment For N.J. Couple's Son

Treatment Shrinks Piles, Relieves Pain In Most Cases

Wharton, N.J. Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Jeffers report: "Our son suffered from hemorrhoids. I asked the doctor about Preparation H and he gave us the O.K. Our son is now fine, thanks to Preparation H."

(Note: Doctors have proved in most cases—Preparation H® actually shrinks inflamed hemorrhoids. In case after case, the sufferer first notices prompt relief from pain, burning and itching. Then swelling is gently reduced. There's no other formula for the treatment of hemorrhoids like doctor-tested Preparation H. It also lubricates to make bowel movements more comfortable, soothes irritated tissues and helps prevent further infection. In ointment or suppository form.)

Town Justice Candidate Reports Views to Voters

WOODSTOCK the peace make it the busiest programs for, although there is a magnificent consistency in the monetary jurisdiction in law and the judicial system at justice court is now $1,000 or the foundation, the surface is less, which mean that if the constantly being rippled with case brought before the town changes and variations. These justice is for money only for changes and new applications $1,000 or less, such cases as make continued study and attention to such matters of vital contract or tort (negligence) importance, he said.

Recent changes in the law in the form of the Uniform Justice Court Act, effective September 1, 1967, have made ever increasing demands upon town justices who are largely non-lawyers, making justice training programs an absolute necessity. Lawyers who assume the responsibility of such an office are also well advised to attend such

The Republican candidate for town justice, Attorney James Myers, in an initial report to the voters of Woodstock states that the justice court system having progressed in jurisdiction and significance since early 1800, now stands as the most active court in the state. The justice of the peace is the basic judicial officer of the town and assumes a great responsibility when sworn into office. Civil and criminal matters come before him and, although the court's jurisdiction is purely statutory, meaning conferred expressly by the legislature, the volume of cases heard and disposed of annually by justices of

MRS. ASHTON HART

Cancer Group Names Education Chairman

KINGSTON — Mrs. Ashton W. Hart of New Paltz has been appointed as the new public education chairman of the Ulster County Unit, American Cancer Society, it was announced today by Dr. Harri H. Janssen, unit president.

Mrs. Hart attended schools in New Paltz and later, Skidmore College at Saratoga Springs. She has been active in theater and studied with the famed Shakespearean director Margaret Webster.

Last year she was co-chairman for the highly successful Cancer Crusade in the Town of New Paltz and is currently serving on the Ulster County Unit's Representative Assembly.

Mrs. Hart said "Statistics show that this year an estimated 160,000 people will die of cancer because they did not heed our message, or, to put the shoe on the other foot, perhaps they will die because we did not get our message to them. Our aim this year," she continued, "is to reach people in the grass roots' throughout the county, and motivate them to act for their own good. I know this can be surprisingly difficult, but it can also be extraordinarily rewarding."

The New York State Division of Public Education Committee is sponsoring an orientation meeting Oct. 28 at the Holiday Inn in Kingston at 7:30 p.m.; to which all Township chairmen will be invited, as well as five other counties in the region. Further details regarding the meeting and a complete list of chairmen will be announced in the near future," concluded Mrs. Hart.

Calls for Town Voice In State Government

David L. Fletcher, Conservative Party candidate for councilman for the Town of Esopus, asked today why the town and, "in fact, our local political entities," could not have a voice in Albany.

"Much of our state legislation, Fletcher stated, "pushes programs down our throats, takes away home rule, and leaves the localities with the bills to pay for these programs." Fletcher proposes informal, informational hearings sponsored by the town on important legislative proposals in Albany, then a follow-up by resolution of the town board, expressing these feelings to the state representatives and Governor.

A second plank in Fletcher's platform is a strong recommendation that the Town of Esopus utilize fully the many savings available through the state purchasing program. The largest part of the town budget is the Highway Department where State Purchasing opportunities have been barely tapped, Fletcher said. "Is there no qualified attorney residing in the Town of Esopus who could be named Town Attorney? The present budget amount of $3,800 is paid to an out-of-town lawyer who advises the town on legal affairs, but who is not even available to attend special hearings and answer public inquiries such as were presented from the floor at hearings on the recently proposed zoning ordinance. This ordinance, incidentally, without answers to the legal questions, leaves a lot of confusion in the minds of citizens of the Town of Esopus. I am fully behind the principle of an effective but limited zoning control."

Pick O'Reilly For Project STEP Coordinator

WILLIAM J. O'REILLY

KINGSTON — William J. O'Reilly, of Kingston has been named project coordinator for Project STEP. The announcement was made by Dean M. Kintner, President of the Kingston Area Chamber of Commerce, and Herbert Petz, the Chamber's manpower committee chairman. Project STEP is designed to place the disadvantaged workers in jobs with a future. Some 62 people have been placed in 31 businesses and industries, while others have received some job training.

O'Reilly and his wife, the former Gertrude Falvey of Kingston, reside on West Chestnut Street in the city. He was the president and general manager of O'Reilly's Stationery on Broadway.

Long active in various civic and community programs, Mr. O'Reilly was one of the early proponents for an area Chamber of Commerce and helped in its establishment. He served for 20 years (1940-1960) on the board of the YMCA, and is a past president of the Kingston Rotary Club.

O'Reilly, whose duties began on October 1, replaces William A. Schenck who returns to his assignment with IBM. Schenck was the project coordinator for the initial year and, as such, was largely responsible for much of the success enjoyed by STEP.

The manpower committee is currently involved in efforts to raise the sum of $20,100 for the 1969-70 STEP budget. Information is available from the Chamber office in Kingston.

Highland Church: 100 Years Service

The imposing red brick church building — which has been a house of worship for generations of Highland Methodists, and an enduring landmark in the village square — is about to begin its second century of service.

When the church building was dedicated back in 1869, Highland had dirt streets, Ulysses S. Grant was President, and Edison's development of a practical electric light was still a decade away.

Over the years, the appearance and character of Highland has constantly changed. Flour mills, iron foundries, livery stables and carriage shops flourished and then disappeared. The horse gave way to the trolley, and that in turn to the automobile.

But despite all of the changes which have occurred during the course of 100 years, the large brick church building continues to serve the community.

Centennial Observance

In recognition of the church building's 100 year of service, the First United Methodist Church of Highland will conduct a Centennial Observance on Sunday, Oct. 12.

According to the Rev. Robert E. Richmond, one of the major ceremonies which will take place is the rededication of the church building. The Rev. Mr. Richmond emphasized, "The Rededication Service will involve the spiritual rededication of church members as well as the rededication of the church building as a structure of mortar and bricks, altar and pews."

Mrs. Beatrice Wadlin, general chairman of the Centennial Observance and Church Historian, reports that special plans for the 100th anniversary program are nearing completion.

The Rev. Paul M. Allen, district superintendent, will participate in the 10:30 morning service, which will have special music for the occasion. The Service of Rededication, with Bishop Lloyd C. Wicke and former ministers, will begin at 4:30 p.m. Special music also has been arranged for the service.

Exhibit of Pictures

Mrs. Wadlin said that a free buffet supper for church members and guests is scheduled for 6 p.m. There will be an exhibit of church pictures and historical items, and many church members plan to wear clothing and costumes dating back to the early history of the church.

The Centennial Observance committee has arranged to distribute free copies of a history of the church, and other mementos of the occasion will be available for purchase.

Some Openings Still Remain In Adult Ed

KINGSTON The Adult Education Division of the Kingston Consolidated School District reports such large enrollment that "some courses had to be closed to further registration."

There are still openings in a number of courses. On Mondays, students may register for Americanization, Social Studies, Electricity, Typing, Shorthand, Art, High School Equivalency, Business Machines, Italian and Physical Fitness for Women.

Tuesdays there is Wood working, German, Retailing, Ceramics, and Math.

Additional enrollments Wednesdays may be made in Typing, High School Equivalency, Stenography, Spanish, Bookkeeping, Retailing, Psychology, and High School English. Classes begin this week.

Can religion solve all the problems of the world?

Can religion solve any of them?

There are people who say "religion" is as out of touch with the times as the dinosaur. And about as useful.

After all, how has "religion" solved the problems of our cities, the agony of war, our racial strife, the seeming chasm between the young and the old? Indeed, what should we expect "religion" to be able to do in solving the very real problems of our time?

To take just the example of our troubled cities—churches and synagogues have not a fraction of the material resources needed to heal the wounds.

It's as simple as that.

But have they failed, if they point the moral way, provide the moral resolve, and, of course, assist materially to the limit of their resources?

"Religion," indeed, cannot fail—nor, for that matter, succeed—because "religion" is merely a word. What gives "religion" meaning and force is you. And everyone who cares enough for God to show God's love in the world. Every day. Everywhere.

For the problems that beset our world are proof that God has failed Man. But just the opposite.

The Vatican Speaks Out

Authority of Church to Rule on Sex Spelled Out

In an unprecedented series of articles, through his distinguished Vatican emissaries, Pope Paul VI speaks out on the moral issues of today: the pill and population, love, sex and marriage. These exclusive articles were prepared at the request of this newspaper to answer the questions arising from the reaction to the Pope's encyclical on regulation of birth.

This article, the sixth of eight, deals with the authority of the Church to teach in matters of morals.

THE PROBLEM OF OBEDIENCE

By P. Michel Riquet, S.J.

Among the problems raised by the encyclical Humanae Vitae we are going to take a look at that which concerns the authority of the Church in defining and imposing moral obligations in a domain that, at first glance, would seem to be one of natural morality and of reason.

In the field of sexuality, as in the human sciences generally, it appears self-evident that reason alone, faced with the data of experience, has difficulty in establishing norms of universal and absolute value. Neither advantage nor inconvenience ever seems to be sufficient to justify an absolute and indisputable prohibition or command. One can always imagine or find cases where the rule cannot be applied without serious inconvenience, where individual derogation of the norm seems the most suitable solution, granted the needs and capabilities of some individual in a particular situation.

For this reason St. Thomas Aquinas did not hesitate to say that the norms deduced by reason from the first principles of natural law never bind in an absolute way unless sanctioned by a divine or human law. Polygamy, for example, is wrong only when prohibited by divine or human law. It brings disadvantages certainly, but these are neither directly nor absolutely opposed to the end of sex, namely, procreation and education of offspring.

Besides, human reason is often uncertain or led astray by different influences, such as those of the sociological sphere, or acquired through education or learned habits and dominated by a badly disciplined temperament or emotions.

Hence the many half-truths and deviations from natural morality which a study of the history of the customs of human societies reveals.

And so it is that the mission of salvation confided by Christ to his Church would have been incomplete and deficient if it did not include the task and duty of defining moral norms, which human reason, under the historical conditions brought about by the sin of man, is unable to discern clearly enough to be certain about its obligations.

That is why the encyclical Humanae Vitae reminds us, more than once, that it is for the magisterium of the Church to "interpret natural moral law."

As a matter of fact, it underlines that "it is indisputable that Jesus Christ, in giving to Peter and the other Apostles His divine authority and in sending them to teach all peoples His commandments, made them the guardians and authentic interpreters of all moral law, not only of the law of the Gospel but of natural law as well, for this too is an expression of the will of God and its fulfillment is equally necessary for salvation" (n.4).

Norm of Conduct

In reality, that which traditional theology calls "natural law" or "natural morality" is nothing other than the norm of conduct which natural reason discovers from a consideration of the natural order of the world created by God. Hence St. Thomas Aquinas could say that natural law is "a participation in the Eternal Law, by the creature endowed with reason, which enables it to discern what is good and evil according to natural law, which is nothing other than an impress, an irradiation in us of the divine light" (I-IIae, q.91, a.2).

There is not and there cannot be any contradiction between the will of God as manifested in the order of His creation and the redemptive design which He revealed through His prophets and finally through His Son, Jesus Christ. The contradictions that cloud our vision are caused by the imperfection and the numerous deviations of the understanding of sinful man. This is what St. Paul speaks boldly of in his Epistle to the Romans, apropos of the disorderliness of the morals of those who "by their wickedness suppress the truth. For what can be known about God is plain to them, because God has shown it to them . . . in the things that have been made . . . (but) they exchanged the truth about God for a lie and worshipped and served the creature rather than the creator, who is blessed for ever! Amen. For this reason God gave them up to dishonorable passions. Their women exchanged natural relations for unnatural . . . (Rom. 1, 18-26).

All this ties up. The denial of God implies the denial of moral law. But from the moment God, through Christ, willed the reestablishment of the order of the life of His creatures who are endowed with intelligence and freedom, it is obvious that the Church, instituted to fulfill, in Jesus Christ, the work of the salvation of men, must enjoy in full measure the function of teaching men how to live according to God. The law of Christ, transmitted and interpreted by the Church, fulfills, surpasses and transforms natural law, but does not contradict it. In the light of faith, right reason, which determines the morality of our acts by its judgments, sees no contradiction between the demands of the Gospel and those of natural morality. But the latter are surpassed by the former. And too, the law of Christ, which is a law of love, brings grace with it, to give to our innate weakness the means of overcoming itself under the impulse of supernatural charity.

As St. Paul says, "I delight in the law of God in my inmost self, but I see in my members another law at war with the law of my mind . . . So then, of myself I serve the law of God with my mind, but with my flesh I serve the law of sin" (Rom. 7, 22-25).

He goes on to explain that "the mind that is set on the flesh is hostile to God; it does not submit to God's law, indeed it cannot; and those who are in the flesh cannot please God. . . (But) God has done what the law, weakened by the flesh, could not do: Sending His own Son in the likeness of sinful flesh and for sin, He condemned sin in the flesh, in order that the just requirement of the law might be fulfilled in us, who walk not according to the flesh but according to the spirit" (Rom. 8, 7 & 3-4).

In and with the Church, Christ continues His work of salvation, showing the way we must follow and communicating to each soul the power to fulfill what is prescribed. And therefore it falls to the Church to define the duties of the Christian, while at the same time offering him, through its sacraments, the grace to remain faithful, even heroically if necessary.

Does Not Fail

The encyclical Humanae Vitae does not fail to explain precisely this point to us. It recognizes that the doctrine under recall and clarification "may easily appear to many to be difficult, or even impossible, of fulfillment" (n.20). It does not in any way try to "hide the sometimes serious difficulties inherent in the life of Christian spouses; for them as for everyone, narrow is the gate and hard the way that leads to life" (n.25). It also recognizes that the reasons underlying its decisions will not appear to everybody as being beyond dispute, and hence it warns that the loyal assent it calls for, both internal and external, is due to it "not only because of the reasons adduced, but rather because of the light of the Holy Spirit which is given in a particular way to the pastors of the Church in order in order that they may expound truth" (n.28).

The moral norm taught by the encyclical cannot be understood or practiced perfectly except in the immense and mysterious context of the Church of the Incarnate Word, that is to say, in the light of faith and under the impulse of charity. For the true Christian the Church is Christ, continuing to teach us the way of salvation. Who by His example and His sacrifice, gives us courage "to follow Him, carrying our cross daily."

Apart from this picture of things, one could discuss endlessly the advantages and disadvantages of each and every contraceptive, but all arguments would remain inconclusive. Nevertheless, the most inveterate supporters of contraception are the first to acknowledge that no one of the means they propose can be claimed to be 100 per cent effective and free from the danger of physical damage or psychological complications. As Dr. Dalsace frankly admits, "all these means have a more or less high percentage of risk. The greater part of them imposes very disagreeable penances on one or other of the spouses, if not on both. Some are aesthetically, others imperil the sexual equilibrium of the couple, and hence it is necessary to acknowledge, all told, that we are at an elementary stage of con-

But these definite disadvantages of the pill and of sterilization can appear to a medical man like Dr. Pincus, in spite of everything, less fraught with peril than a dangerous pregnancy or an excessive increase in the number of mouths to be fed, in a poor country and in a family unprovided with essentials.

It is only the authority of the Church that could decide that no contraceptive practice can be a licit means for regulating births, as long as it tends to positive interference, the natural fecundity of the marriage act from the pleasure which accompanies it, and which is at once an expression and a reawakening of the mutual love of husband and wife.

Specific Task

In fact, it is the specific task of authority to make clear the obligations of all with respect to those norms of conduct which the individual conscience, left to itself, would hesitate to recognize as of certain obligation. In order to create an obligation with certitude, it is not necessary that the authority be infallible. In order that the subject be obliged in conscience to obey, it is enough that it be, at the very least, not certain that what is prescribed is evil.

But, as the pastoral note of the German episcopate rightly points out, whoever has sufficiently grave and certain reasons for not being obliged to adhere unreservedly to the encyclical, ought to ask himself whether "in conscience prescinding from every thoughtless presumption and subjectivism, he is prepared to answer for his opinions before the judgement seat of God."

Here lies the problem of our obedience to the Church and the Pope. Our personal relation with God is put in doubt by any refusal to obey him who is His Vicar, charged with revealing to us His will and the demands of His love. And He desires that we be "perfect as our Heavenly Father is perfect" (Mt. 5.48).

Our obedience to the authority of the Church forms part of this picture. This is no human authority, for it is God we obey, for Himself and in Himself, through the person of His Vicar, God has guaranteed us that, obeying him, we do not risk losing the way or being separated from the communion which makes us one body with Christ. And in this free submission of our will to the will of God, discerned in the authority of His Vicar, we have the certainty that it will blossom forth into the freedom of love.

Elizabeth Anne Dittus Exchanges Vows With J. F. Taylor

MRS. JOHN F. TAYLOR
(Lakeside Studio)

St. Joseph's Church, Kingston, was the setting for the wedding of Miss Elizabeth Anne Dittus, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William F. Dittus of 202 Washington Avenue, Kingston, and John Francis Taylor, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy D. Taylor of Box 93, Bloomingtown, Saturday, Oct. 4.

The Rev. Alfred Pizzuto officiated at the double ring ceremony. James Sweeney, organist, provided traditional wedding selections. Arrangements of white gladioli decorated the altar.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a full length gown of peau de soie over silk taffeta, styled with a fitted empire bodice, a high neckline accented with beading, long bishop sleeves with high cuffs which also were trimmed with beading. The straight skirt was accented with Venice lace appliques and heading on the hemline, terminating into a circular chapel train. A Dior Bow of peau de soie with beaded trim held her double bouffant veil of French silk illusion. She carried a cascade bouquet of white carnations and white gladioli.

Theresa Carpino of RD 7, Kingston, was honor attendant in a gold floor length gown of Georgette chiffon, fashioned with a fitted empire bodice, a high neckline and long sleeves. The gown wrapped around in back, accented with lace edging with turquoise ribbon intertwined in the lace. An open crown of matching ribbon and cotton lace held a matching waist length veil and she carried a plateau basket of blue carnations with blue satin ribbon.

Attendants were JoAnn Pagliaro, Navara Street; Dorothy Metcalf, Henry Street, both of Kingston, and Mrs. Kathleen Meyer, sister of the bridegroom, Stone Ridge. Their lime green gowns and headpieces were fashioned identically to that of the honor attendant's and they carried plateau baskets of light blue carnations with blue satin ribbon.

Patricia Dittus, sister of the bride, was flower girl. She wore a lime Georgette chiffon gown, styled with an empire waistline. Blue daisies accented the A-line waistline and edged the short sleeves. She carried a princess basket of light blue carnations.

Andrew Jones of Creek Locks was best man. Ushers were Stephen Dittus, 202 Washington Avenue, Kingston, brother of the bride; Anthony Lo Rocca, 208 Union Street, Schenectady; William Meyer, Stone Ridge, brother-in-law of the bridegroom.

A reception for 90 guests was held at Walnut Grove Restaurant, Field Court, Kingston.

For her wedding trip to Bermuda, the bride chose a navy and red knit A-line dress with matching accessories.

The bride, a 1968 graduate of Kingston High School, attended Hartwick College, and was employed by Kingston City Court. Her husband, a 1966 alumnus of Kingston High School, was graduated in 1968 from Ulster County Community College, is a member of National Guard, and is employed by Rotron as a draftsman.

Mr. and Mrs. Taylor will reside at 18 Maiden Lane, Kingston.

Miss Martha Baker Weds Gordon Quick

MRS. GORDON QUICK
(Lakeside Studio)

Miss Martha Baker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Baker of Box 104, Accord, became the bride of Gordon Quick, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Quick of Box 272, Kerhonkson, Saturday, Sept. 20 at Rochester Reformed Church in Accord.

The Rev. Gerard Van Dyke officiated at the double ring ceremony. Baskets of white gladioli and white chrysanthemums decorated the altar and white bows marked the family pews.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride selected a full bouffant gown which featured overlapping tiers of Alencon lace, scalloped edged. The gown was fashioned with a scalloped neckline and long tapered lace sleeves. Her headpiece was a crown of crystal and seed pearls secured to an elbow length silk illusion veil. She carried a formal cascade of white carnations and red roses.

Miss Merriann Motzer of Rosendale was maid of honor. She wore a full length gown of turquoise chiffon over taffeta. A stylized headpiece held her short flirtation veil and she carried a nosegay of turquoise and yellow carnations with turquoise bows and streamers.

Attendants were Donna Gray; Carol Baker, sister of the bride; and Debbie Countryman. Their gowns and headpieces were identical in styling to that of the honor attendant's and they carried nosegays of aqua and white carnations with aqua bows and streamers.

Carol Lynn Baker, sister of the bride, was flower girl. She carried a small white basket of turquoise and yellow carnations with aqua bows.

Clifford Wicks was best man. Ushers were Vernon Gray, brother-in-law of the bride; Robert Baker, brother of the bride; Wayne Gunberg, cousin; Donald Baker, brother of the bride, served as ring-bearer.

A reception for 90 guests was held at Elmer's Inn in Ruby.

The bride, a graduate of Rondout Valley Central School, is employed by Metropolitan Life Insurance Company. Her husband attended Rondout Valley Central School and is employed by VAW of America in Ellenville.

When they return from their wedding trip to Niagara Falls, they will reside at Accord.

Reservation Deadline Extended

Due to the requests from many friends of the Rt. Rev.

Msgr. Joseph D. Ostermann of St. Peter's Parish, Kingston, the reservation deadline for the testimonial dinner to be held in his honor will be extended to Wednesday, Oct. 15.

The dinner will be held at the Granit in Kerhonkson on Sunday, Oct. 26, marking Msgr. Ostermann's 50th anniversary in the priesthood and his 75th birthday.

Tickets are available from Leo Schupp of Kingston, Robert L. Scherer of Ulster Park, or may be obtained from any of the committee members.

MRS. ROBERT J. CAVANO

Bernard - Cavano Wedding Announced

Miss Kathleen Ann Bernard, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John J. Bernard Sr. of Day Hollow Road, Owego, became the bride of Robert John Cavano, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph F. Cavano Sr., 1 Alda Drive, St. Remy, Saturday, Oct. 4, at St. Patrick's Church, Owego.

The Rev. Patrick Delleff officiated at the double ring ceremony. Arrangements of white gladioli and pink carnations decorated the altar.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride selected a Victorian style gown of organza and Venice lace, styled with cuffed bishop sleeves and transparent yoke trimmed with Venice lace and pink velvet ribbon. Lace and ribbon also accented the hemline and detachable Watteau train. A matching Venice lace Camelot headpiece held her elbow length tulle veil and she carried a Victorian bouquet of white bridal roses, carnations, daisy pompons and pink roses, accented with pink lace and streamers.

Miss Patricia Dalton of Brooklyn was maid of honor in a Victorian styled gown of pink linen with lace accents on the neckline, yoke and cuffs of the bishop sleeves. A matching pink Camelot headpiece accented with lace served as her headpiece and she carried a colonial bouquet of delicate pink carnations and deep pink roses and white daisy pompons.

Attendants were Miss Shahla Izadi of Teheran, Iran; Miss Judith Hofmeister of Rhode Island; and Mrs. Donald Miller, Owego. Their gowns, headpieces and bouquets were fashioned identically to that of the honor attendant's.

Paul Bird of Islip served as best man. Ushers were Michael Bernard, Owego, brother of the bride; Robert Meyers, Kingston; and James McLaughlin of Poughkeepsie.

A reception for 150 guests was held at the home of the bride's parents.

The couple left on a wedding trip to Quebec, Canada. The bride, a graduate of Owego Free Academy, was awarded her BA degree in Sociology at State University College at New Paltz.

Her husband, an alumnus of Kingston High School, received his BA degree in Literature at State University College at New Paltz.

Doing The Right Thing

By ELIZABETH L. POST
Of The Emily Post Institute.
A "JOINT" BIRTHDAY PARTY

Dear Mrs. Post: My friend and I both have birthdays within a few days of each other. We would like to have a joint birthday party, but we have a problem. We would ask the guest to bring gifts, but we know it will create an awkward situation. Some of my guests do not know the other hosts. Therefore, they might not think it proper to bring a present for someone they do not know. What do you suggest? — Kathy and Ann

Dear Kathy and Ann: You do have a problem. There are two ways to solve it, and you may not like either, but you'll have to choose if you don't want your guests to be in the embarrassing position you yourself mention.

Either you should restrict your guest list to friends who know both of you well enough to want to give you birthday presents, or you should be truly altruistic and write "No presents, please" on all the invitations.

Cocktail Accessories With Foreign Accent

Make your next cocktail party an international affair by serving appetizers or hors d'oeuvres of foreign origin. Whether it's a party for a few or many, this can be done with ease and speed by reaching into your grocer's freezer cabinets.

Among the abundant supply of frozen products to choose from, there are French pastry puffs (anchovy, lobster, shrimp, smoked salmon, chicken liver, cheese and others); Chinese snack-size egg roll with hot mustard sauce; Polynesian spareribs with sweet and sour sauce; Italian miniature pizzas and raviolles; Mexican cocktail tacos; Alaska King crab; Welsh rarebit; Swedish meatballs and Japanese shrimp tempura.

Since these frozen products are ready to heat and eat or thaw and serve, they can be offered to guests with little effort on the part of the hostess. But, not only time-savers, they also are a bargain economically. Because you prepare only the amount needed, keeping the remaining portion frozen for the next party occasion, there's no waste.

Following are a few suggestions for serving these foreign specialties. Appropriate accompanying beverages are given also.

Beef Tacos With Guacamole

2 packages (12 ounces each) cocktail beef tacos
2 avocados, mashed or sieved
2 tablespoons frozen chopped onion
2 tablespoons frozen chopped green pepper
2 tablespoons frozen lemon juice
Salt and pepper.

Heat tacos according to package directions. Combine avocado, onion, green pepper and lemon juice; mix well. Season to taste with salt and pepper.
Makes 48 servings.

Bacon-Wrapped Ravioli

1 package (10 ounces) frozen meat raviolles
1/2 pound sliced bacon
Wooden picks

Cook raviolles in boiling salted water according to package directions; drain thoroughly. Cut each bacon slice into thirds. Wrap two drained raviolles in each piece of bacon, fastening with wooden picks. Broil until bacon is crisp on all sides. Drain on absorbent paper. Serve immediately.
Makes 48 servings.

Cocktail Pizzas

1 sweet Italian sausage or 1 small can rolled anchovies
1 package (11 ounces) frozen individual cheese pizzas

Cut sausage into thin slices or drain anchovies. Place pizzas on a heated baking sheet. Top each with sausage slices or rolled anchovies. Bake in pre-heated hot oven (450 degrees F.) for 10 to 12 minutes. Cut each into quarters. Serve immediately.
Makes 48 servings.

Eggrolls Sweet, Sour Sauce

2 packages (12 ounces each) frozen chicken, shrimp or lobster snack-size egg rolls
3 tablespoons vinegar
1/2 cup reconstituted frozen orange juice
1/2 cup brown sugar
1 tablespoon cornstarch
1 tablespoon water
1/2 teaspoon salt

Heat egg rolls according to package directions. Combine vinegar, orange juice, brown sugar, cornstarch blended with water and salt in small saucepan. Bring to boil, stirring constantly; reduce heat and simmer 5 minutes. Cool and serve with heated egg rolls.
Makes 24 servings.

Mexican Spiced Punch

1 can (6 ounces) frozen orange juice
1 can (6 ounces) frozen pineapple juice concentrate 2 cinnamon sticks
8 whole cloves
Reconstitute frozen juice concentrates according to can directions. Combine 1 cup of the juices with cinnamon and cloves in saucepan; bring to boil, then reduce heat and simmer for 10 minutes. Cool, strain and add to combined juices. Chill until ready to serve.
Makes 8 servings.

Oriental Ginger-Peach Punch

2 packages (10 ounces each) frozen peaches, thawed
2 tablespoons frozen lemon juice
1/2 teaspoon ground ginger
1 quart ginger ale, chilled
Combine peaches, lemon juice and ginger ale in container of electric blender. Whirl until smooth. Divide mixture evenly in 6 10-ounce glasses. Fill to top with ginger ale; stir until mixed. If desired, reserve a few peach slices for garnishing top of each drink.
Makes 6 servings.

Italian Fruit Punch

1 can (6 ounces) frozen limeade concentrate
1 can (6 ounces) frozen lemonade concentrate
1/2 cup Galliano liqueur
1 quart club soda, chilled
1 pint lime sherbet (optional)

Combine limeade and lemonade concentrates with liqueur in container of electric blender; whirl until smooth. Divide mixture evenly in 8 10-ounce glasses. Fill each with club soda; stir until mixed. If desired, garnish each serving with a small scoop of sherbet.
Makes 8 servings.

FROZEN APPETIZERS of foreign origin add interest to cocktail-party refreshments. Shown here, from top to bottom, are: Italian Cocktail Pizzas and Bacon-wrapped Raviolles; Mexican Beef Tacos with Guacamole; Chinese Egg Rolls with Sweet and Sour Sauce. Accompanying beverages, also top to bottom, are: Italian Fruit Punch, Mexican Spiced Punch and Oriental Ginger-Peach Punch.

Hints From Heloise

Dear Heloise: In the last couple of years I have sewed several dresses from the marvelous double knit dacron material which is such a boon for working women. However, I would get so frustrated because I always had skips in the stitching.

After much tension adjusting, changing of needles, etc., I finally called a repairman and told him my problem. The kind soul, bless him, suggested I change my zigzag needle plate to the one that will only accommodate straight stitching. I also replaced the zigzag presser foot with the single-hole foot. Now I can sew over the bulkiest seams without a skip of a stitch.

Thelma Yarbrough

Dear Heloise: Our problem was that our hair dryer cap wouldn't fit over all those bulky curlers. To solve this, we put a hole in a large paper bag just big enough for the dryer hose to fit into, then laced a string through the other end to form a cap.

Worked beautifully and now we don't have to invest in a larger dryer.

Mrs. J.B. Dunlop

Dear Heloise: When dropping drop dumplings into soup or stew, if you wash the spoon, then hold it in the hot soup before putting it back in the dumpling dough, the dough won't stick to the spoon!

Cerebral Palsy Center Gives Aid to Handicapped

THERAPY CENTER — Learning to hear and to walk are major problems for many children afflicted with cerebral palsy many CP children are currently being treated to overcome these handicaps at the United Cerebral Palsy Center in Kingston. Hearing therapy is one of the major services offered at the center located at 44 Broadway. The scene in the hearing therapy room (top) shows the relaxed attitudes of both the staff therapists and the children. Therapists also teach crippled children to walk at the center. Bobby, a CP child, now walks with crutches and sneakers (right). Through early diagnosis and adequate specialized help, many youngsters, like Bobby, are able to overcome their disabilities. The work of the CP center is one of the many endeavors supported by the Community Chest.

By ALBERT J. CAWEIN
KINGSTON

The United Cerebral Palsy Center, 400 Broadway has eased the suffering of nearly 5,000 physically handicapped children and the heartache of their parents during the 18 years of its existence in Kingston.

What is even more enlightening is the fact that 360 of these children have been graduated and returned to a nearly normal life at home.

The center which has a monthly caseload of 20, treats physically handicapped children for birth defects, hearing problems, neuro-muscular disease, post-polio, speech disorders and cerebral palsy.

The CP Center, a ray of hope for many handicapped children has logged 82,980 patient visits since the center opened in November 1951. These statistics merely point out how the center has met this vital need in the county.

Worth A Contribution

Easing the suffering or difficulties of only one unfortunate child is worth a substantial contribution to this year's Community Chest campaign, whose funds support the CP Center. Anyone who has ever visited the center and was able to see the wonderful work and treatment. Some therapeutic sessions vary from five times per week to once a month. This is the only qualified children's rehabilitation agency in this area. Early diagnosis and provides much to help handicapped youngsters overcome their difficulties.

New Construction

United Cerebral Palsy of Ulster County is in the process of constructing a new 12,000 square foot center at Webster Street and Mary's Avenue in this city. The new center is nearing completion and needs only the installation of various types of equipment. The new facility is expected to be ready for full occupancy by the end of the year.

Opening of the new center will provide Ulster County with the finest and most modern rehabilitation center in the country. Ulster County residents whose families have not been personally affected by cerebral palsy are fortunate to have such a facility in this community, ready to help if the need arises.

Best Generation Of Students Now Says Hayakawa

TUXEDO, N.Y. (UPI) — Despite student disorders, Samuel I. Hayakawa, president of San Francisco State College, said Saturday night that universities have at present "the best generation of college students to come along."

Hayakawa, credited with restoring order to his own college after some of the most publicized campus demonstrations this year, addressed a full house at the Tuxedo school auditorium, in an appearance sponsored by the local board of education. He defined college revolutionaries as an intellectual elite who "don't feel the responsibilities of responsible discourse."

Medical Group Sets Meeting, Lists Speaker

KINGSTON — Dr. Edmund H. Reppert, newly appointed director of medical education at Kingston Hospital, will speak at the October membership meeting of the Medical Society of the County of Ulster at Liguori's Restaurant Tuesday night, Oct. 7. His topic will be, The Surgical Approach to Coronary Artery Disease.

Until accepting his appointment here on Sept. 1, Dr. Reppert was associate professor of clinical medicine at New York University Medical Center. Associated with that center since 1951, Dr. Reppert in addition to his teaching duties was an associate attending in medicine and was director of the center's Cardiac Catheterization Laboratory. He also was clinical assistant in the field of cardiology for medicine at Bellevue Hospital, and a member of the consultant staffs of Bronx V.A. Hospital, 1st Army Headquarters, and Horton Memorial Hospital. Dr. Reppert is certified by the American Board of Internal Medicine, with subspecialty of cardiovascular disease. He is a Fellow of the American Heart Association Council on Clinical Cardiology, and has authored or co-authored many articles in medical journals.

In addition to his post as director of medical education, he serves also as a member of the Department of Cardiology at the Kingston Hospital. The October meeting will be the first regular Society meeting presided over by Dr. John L. Alley as president. He assumed office this summer, succeeding Dr. Francis LoGalbo.

Requesting U. N. For Law to Curb Plane Hijacking

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Eleven countries are requesting the U.N. General Assembly to ask all nations to outlaw aerial hijacking.

In a letter today to Secretary-General U Thant, the countries asked that "piracy in the air" be added to the agenda of the assembly's current session. They sought a study of legal measures that governments might adopt against a "growing menace to commercial aircraft."

They proposed a resolution calling for effective laws against seizure of aircraft in flight, punishment of hijackers, a new international convention against air piracy and compliance with the 1963 Tokyo convention "relating to the prompt release of passengers, crews and aircraft."

Countries sponsoring the resolution are the Netherlands, Belgium, Luxembourg, Canada, New Zealand, Lesotho, the Malagasy Republic, the Philippines, Argentina, the Dominican Republic and Ecuador.

Interested diplomats said the assembly probably will agree this week to take up the question although there may be some abstentions.

They speculated that the Soviet Union would argue that an assembly debate is unnecessary because the International Civil Aviation Organization in Montreal is working on the problem.

Defense Excels

Kingston Settles Old Score With Linton

By MORT LAFFIN

KINGSTON

A tight, unyielding defense and a ball-control offense gave the Maroons of Kingston High School an 8-0 win over visiting Linton in the Homecoming game Saturday at Dietz Stadium. The win for the Maroons avenged a last-second loss at the hands of Linton last year and evened the locals record at 1-1 thus far.

Quarterback Rick Sorenson and end Dale Whitman were the offensive stars as they led Kingston to the game's only score late in the second period. After a running play by Jesse Adams netted four yards, Sorenson took the snap from center and under great pressure from the Linton defense, rolled out to his right and found Whitman virtually alone in the secondary. The range end made a fine catch of the ball and rambled to the six yard line, the play covering 44 yards.

Sorenson tried Joe Reilly around the left end, but the play lost two yards and it was second down and goal to go from the eight.

Scores TD

The Kingston signal-caller again went to the right side on a roll-out and this time, finding nobody in the open, rambled in for the score hurtingling three would-be tacklers and vaulting the last three yards into the end zone for the score.

Kingston went for the two-point conversion with Sorenson again rolling out, this time to the left side. Whitman and Reilly were alone on the leftside, but it took a "circus catch" by Whitman to garner the two points for Kingston.

That was all the scoring for either side as the locals kept the ball on the ground, going to a ball-control type of offense, featuring keepers by Sorenson and the bull-like rushes of fullback Tony Cicoria.

The winners' defense was superb as time and again they threw Linton quarterback Frank

Campolieto for loss after loss as the visitors worked against the clock in the final period. Bob Clausi, Kingston tackle, played a tremendous game both ways as he spent most of the afternoon in the Linton backfield.

Time and again the 6-4, 240 lb. senior eluded the trap-blocking of the losers, showing great lateral movement to bring down the quarterback and the other running backs of Linton. Cicoria also had a fine day from his middle linebacker position as he broke through to toss Campolieto for big losses.

Defense outstanding

The rest of the defense also did an outstanding job as they kept the visitors outside their 30-yard line all afternoon. Boys like Larry Papilio, John McCumber, Paul Saehloff, Mike Sabino, John Tiano, Ray Rhoades, Bob Marks, George Geanuleus and Reilly all contributed greatly to the defensive success.

Tiano did an outstanding job of running the ball on the offense and then coming up from his linebacker position to recover his second fumble in as many games late in the third period to cut off a Linton drive. Linton's defense looked good also and the hard-running of Dick Cornell, Ken Grey and Dick Hotaling kept the visitors in the game.

"Our defense was the key to this game," said Coach Modica. The boys were really up. Offensively we were alright, but I'm not yet satisfied with it. We are coming along, though and we ought to do all right the rest of the way," said the coach.

GUESS WHAT HAPPENS NEXT! Kingston's Jesse Adams, (white jersey No. 22) heads around left end in the third quarter of Saturday's encounter with Linton High only to find two of the opposition matching his every move, step for step.

Ken Grey (44) and Dick Hotaling (33) prepare to cut Adams off. Kingston's Tony Cicoria (29) is moving in for a block that may help Adams. The locals won the tilt at Dietz Stadium, 8-0. (Freeman photo by Krüh).

Highland Routs Liberty

By JIM MASSA

HIGHLAND

Highland High School's football team appears to be ready for the big one next week at Pine Bush, a crucial UCLAL game, as they drubbed Liberty 42-0 here on a windy day.

Bill Henderson sent Highland out in front 6-0 when he plunged for two yards off right tackle. Doug Geer made it 8-0 with an end around right for the two-point conversion. Henderson's touchdown came after a jolting tackle from Perry Monroe shook the ball loose on the 30-yard line of Liberty and Highland recovered.

Liberty had a first and ten on their own 36 when the hard hitting defense of the Highlanders shook loose the ball again and this time Perry Monroe recovered. Six plays later quarterback Geer broke through the right side of the Redskin line for three yards and the second Highland score. Geer failed on the end around sweep for the two-point conversion.

A third fumble by the Redskins at their 31 set up Geer's second touchdown from the seven making it 20-0. Cos Trapani kicked the extra point for a 21-0 lead.

All Goes Wrong

The Redskins not only fumbled three times to set up Highland scores but on fourth down with a punt situation at its own 18 the snap from center went sailing over the punter's head. Liberty recovered on its three.

A piling on penalty after the play was dead sent the ball back to the Liberty 22, where Highland took over.

On third down Bill Henderson slammed off left tackle for two yards and his second score. Trapani booted the ball through the uprights for the extra point and Highland led 28-0 at half-time.

Things didn't get any better for Liberty the second half as Doug Geer intercepted a Redskin pass at the Liberty 40 and returned it to the 4 before being pulled down. On the first down Trapani went off left tackle untouched for the score and he added the extra point for a 35-0 lead.

At this time coach Lem Atkins showed signs of mercy and sent his second stringers into the game with seven minutes left in the third quarter. The law of averages didn't prevail the whole afternoon for Liberty as the Highlanders were riding high about to let things change even with its second string playing.

Liberty was forced to punt right after the fourth quarter began and a second hike went sailing over the punter's head and the Highlanders took over on the Redskin 25.

Monroe Gets Chance

Perry Monroe who replaced

Henderson at fullback got his chance to run the ball. Monroe made good busting through and around five potential tacklers to go 25 yards for the final touchdown of the game. Trapani kicked his fourth extra point.

Cos Trapani was the leading ground gainer with 57 yards in 11 carries for Highland and Bill Henderson gained 32 in 10 attemps.

The Highland offense wasted no time in scoring when they are picking Highland over Pine Bush by a 21-12 score. Don't the superb hard hitting defense you Highlanders let me down that gave it to them on four occasions. Three fumble recovery eries and a pass interception.

"Those fumbles made a completely different ball game for us the whole day as we didn't expect to have it so easy. With out them it would have been an entirely different game. Our goal is to get by Pine Bush next week and I think the boys will do it," said coach Lem Atkins after the game.

Huddle Talk: This is not a Hoople pick but, this reporter no time in scoring when they are picking Highland over Pine Bush by a 21-12 score. Don't the superb hard hitting defense you Highlanders let me down that gave it to them on four occasions. Three fumble recovery long time. How about those kicked extra points by Trapani for 4, all right up through the middle of the uprighs. Brad Scott averaged a phenomenal 51.6 yards per punt in five kicks. At future Highland home games it would be nice to see fewer people along the sidelines.

Records Fall In 'Bama Tilt

By the Associated Press

Records are made to be broken and apparently there's not much that college football defenses can do about it.

Bear Bryant pretty well summed it up after his Alabama team outlasted Mississippi 33-32 Saturday night.

"It was Mississippi doing so well offensively rather than us doing poorly on defense," he said.

With Archie Manning of the 20th-ranked Ole Miss completing 33 of 52 for 436 yards and 15th-ranked Alabama's Scott Hunter connecting on 22 of 29 for 300, the two Southeastern Conference antagonists set 20 offensive records—one national, seven SEC, nine Mississippi and three Alabama marks.

The national record was 55 completions, erasing the standard of 53 set by Texas El Paso and New Mexico in 1967 and UTEP and Brigham Young in 1966.

Eighth-ranked Purdue and 17th-ranked Stanford put on another record-smashing show, with Purdue taking a 36-35 squeaker on five scoring passes and a game-winning two-point conversion toss by Mike Phipps.

Besides Mississippi and Stanford, the only losers among the Top Twenty in The Associated Press ratings were 13th-ranked Michigan and No. 14 Michigan State. The Wolverines yielded 24 points in the second period and fell before ninth-ranked Missouri 40-17 while Notre Dame's Joe Theismann passed for three touchdowns and scored one to

Ohio State Rolls

Top-ranked Ohio State rolled over Washington 41-14 with Jim Otis scoring three times and Rex Kern twice. Sophomore Lydell Mitchell ran for 123 yards, including a 58-yard TD, as No. 2 Penn State held off Kansas State 17-14.

Arkansas' Bill Montgomery and Chuck Dicus teamed up for two scores as the third-ranked Razorbacks turned back Texas Christian 24-6 and No. 4 Texas toyed with Navy 56-17, using its first-stringers less than half the game.

Clarence Davis rambled for 181 yards and Jimmy Jones threw three touchdown passes as fifth-ranked Southern California walloped Oregon State 31-7.

Oklahoma, ranked sixth, was idle but Georgia, No. 7, crushed South Carolina 41-16, breaking open a 14-10 contest with 27 points in the final quarter.

Tennessee, No. 10, drubbed Memphis State 55-16 and UCLA, No. 11, blanked Northwestern 36-0 as Mickey Cureton scored on gallops of 61 and 75 yards.

John Reeves, Florida's superb soph, threw his ninth and 10th scoring passes, both to Carlos Alvarez, as the 12th-ranked Gators defeated Florida State 21-6 and 16th-ranked Louisiana State crushed Baylor 63-8 in a game so one-sided that Andy Hamilton, a second-string back, scored four touchdowns.

West Virginia, No. 18, and Wyoming, No. 19, rolled to easy victories. The Mountaineers whipped hapless VMI 32-0, the Keydets suffering their third consecutive shutout, and the Cowboys pummeled Colorado State U. 39-3.

Houston Scores 74 Points

Other offensive displays were provided by Houston, which mauled Mississippi State 74-0 as Gary Mullins threw three touchdown passes to Elmo Wright and Robert Newhouse gained 245 yards on the ground; Idaho's Steve Olson, who passed for 363 and five TDs in a 31-21 upset of Southern Mississippi; Auburn's Pat Sullivan, four scoring passes in a 44-3 rout of Kentucky; Cornell's Ed Mariano, 245 yards rushing despite a 21-7 loss to Rutgers; Steve Ramsey of North Texas State, who hurled his team lost to Drake 27-23, and Dennis Shaw of San Diego State, five TD passes in a 55-21 romp over San Jose.

Lee Evans of the United States, the 400-meter champion of the 1968 Olympics, was upset by Charles Asati of Kenya Saturday as Asati ran the 40 meters in 46.1, nipping Evans by a tenth of a second in an international track and field meet.

The Sawyers are now 0-2 in the league and 0-3 on the season. Lourdes posts a 2-0 DCSL mark and a 2-0-1 overall record.

The Sawyers lost a chance to score early in the first quarter as they fumbled the ball on the 30-yard line of the host team. The winners drove into Sawyer territory, but gave up the ball on downs.

Saugerties couldn't get started in the second quarter and were forced to punt. The Warrior defense, led by linebackers Bill Pitcairn and John Pavey, busted through and blocked the kick, the ball rolling dead on the one-foot line. Huirst then bucked it over from there and the score at the half was Lourdes: 6-0.

Both teams missed scoring chances as fumbles and penalties hurt both squads.

The winners took over the ball mid-way through the final period at the 50-yard line and went the distance in eight plays with Huirst bucking it over from the one-yard line. Again the PAT failed and the final score read 12-0, Lourdes.

Dave Smith played a fine game on defense at end for the Sawyers and Mark Ishkanian ran well, but it wasn't enough as the Lourdes defense proved to be too much for the Sawyers to overcome.

Tom Morrissey led the Warriors in rushing with 90 yards in eight carries, while Huirst added 65 yards on the ground. Pitcairn and Pavey paced the tough Warrior defense.

No Passes In Upstate Contests

By UPI

Upstate New York's small colleges are definitely not going in for the football pass this season.

Ithaca's Doug Campbell, St. Lawrence's Hank Coffeen, Brockport's Bob Nugent and a pair of Hamilton runners piled up a total of 704 yards on the ground and 14 touchdowns to lead their teams to victory Saturday.

Elsewhere: Syracuse kept Wisconsin's winless streak intact by defeating them 43-7. Texas A & M halted Army 20-13. Kent State topped Buffalo 17-8. Rutgers beat Cornell 21-7. Yale stopped Colgate 40-21. Columbia lost to Princeton 21-7 and Rochester upset Williams 21-9.

At Troy, Dick Brown of Canandaigua picked up 139 yards and John Beck 74 as both scored a pair of touchdowns in humiliating Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute 38-22. RPI quarterback Bob Baron, who engineered a comeback win the week before, passed and ran for two fourth period touchdowns.

Campbell, a quarterback from Rochester, helped his team upset Cortland 36-28 in the traditional Cortica Cup meeting of the two teams by running for three touchdowns and 184 yards. It was Ithaca's first victory of the season.

Nugent piled up four touchdowns and 146 yards as Brockport bulldozed over Nichols 47-20. Mike Driscoll of Olean passed 65 yards, to Fred Carbone of Watertown for another Brockport score.

Coffeen had 161 yards and two last-period scores at Geneva as the Larries won their third straight, 27-10 over Hobart. John Douglas of Ogdensburg combined on a 39-yard pass play to Don Martin of Schenectady to pull the Larries in front after Hobart grabbed a 10-7 lead.

Syracuse gained 301 yards on the ground in providing Wisconsin with its 23rd winless game. Six Syracuse runners scored touchdowns in Madison, including even Rich Panczynski, the luckless Orange back-up quarterback.

A 27-yard pass play with less than eight minutes to go at West Point allowed Texas A & M to give Army its first defeat. The play went from Rocky Self to Ross Brubacher.

Rutgers quarterback Rich Policastro opened the scoring against Cornell with a pass to back Al Fenstermacher of Vestal. The Big Red has yet to win.

WALLKILL

Rondout Valley's Ganders recovered from a two-point deficit on a safety early in the first quarter and then came back with a touchdown later in the same quarter to gain a 6-2 victory over winless Wallkill in an Ulster County Scholastic League game Saturday at the losers' field.

Wallkill kicked off to start the action and the ball bounced by Gander halfback Scott Smith and rolled into the end zone. Smith picked the ball up and tried to run it out, but was mowed down by a host of tacklers and Wallkill had the edge, 2-0.

Rondout kicked off, as is the custom after a safety has been scored against a team and Wallkill started a drive that stalled on the Rondout 34-yard line.

The Ganders took over on downs and drove 66 yards for the score. Mike Alecca took two turns to get the ball in. On the first one he started around left end and rambled in for the score from 16 yards out.

However, officials said that he had stepped out on the one-yard line and called the score back.

Mike again got the call and plunged off tackle for the score from one yard out. The attempt for the two-point conversion failed and the score stood for the rest of the game at 6-27. Alecca intercepted a pass on the Rondout 24 yard line, ending the game.

Both defenses did a fine job as the offensive teams couldn't get started. John Hall and Larry Baney, as well as Denny Baney, Ken Brush and Alecca were outstanding for the winners as Brad Hughes, Hector Hita, Kevin Coy and Tim Rosner did a fine job for the Wallkill eleven.

Gentry Gets Call To Wrap It Up for Slugging Mets

MY WORD!—New York Mets' centerfielder Tommy Agee wears a thoroughly surprised look as he arrives at home plate to face a flying bat after ducking a driven ball on an aborted squeeze play during the Mets' 8th inning. The Mets' Cleon Jones (21, R), apparently missed the signal and swung away, hitting a line foul down the third base line and narrowly missing Agee. The whole thing didn't matter; Mets won, 11-6. (UPI TELEPHOTO).

NEW YORK (AP) — The New York Mets were back in their own backyard today, looking to wrap up their National League playoff series with the Atlanta Braves and move on to their first World Series in their almost implausible eight-year history.

The Braves, on the other hand, were looking for a replacement for their unofficial mascot, Chief Noc-A-Homa—preferably someone who could throw a ball or catch a grounder after two games in which they looked like carbon copies of the old Mets.

The new Mets fashioned a 2-0 lead in the best-of-five playoff series during the weekend despite ineffective pitching by aces Tom Seaver and Jerry Koosman, making the most of 23 hits, five Brave errors and several mental mistakes for 9-5 and 11-6 victories.

That put the amazing Mets, who stumbled through seven years of ineptness before starting their rags-to-riches story this season, one step away from the frenzy that is certain to overtake usually staid New York City if the Mets win their first pennant.

Stadium Filling Early
Shea Stadium began filling early today with the usual Met fan—the long suffering banner-carrier who suddenly has found he can take pride in the club, and proved it by almost virtually tearing up the place the night the Mets clinched the National League East title.

The exhilarated fans tore up patches of grass for trophies, took home pieces of the scoreboard as keepsakes and ripped up every base except first in a wild celebration. They probably will make sure they get that, too, if the Mets finish it off today when Gary Gentry (13-12) goes against Pat Jarvis (13-11).

Today is Gentry's 23rd birthday and the 12th day after his pennant-clinching victory for the Mets in the National League East. But whether he would be around at the finish was a big question, considering the pattern of the first two games.

In the first one Saturday, the 25-year-old Seaver was tagged for eight hits, including two homers and four doubles, in seven innings. But the Mets came through with a five-run eighth inning built on four unearned runs to win it.

Then, Sunday, Koosman was chased in the fifth inning after surrendering seven hits, including a homer and two doubles. But the Mets made the most of 13 hits, three Atlanta errors, an obstruction call and an unearned base to put another away.

And that left little doubt that both the Mets and Braves were shocked by the turn of events that had completely altered the odds which had favored Atlanta's hitting against New York's pitching.

Aaron Shocked
"If I had been told before the series started we'd get six and five runs off Koosman and Seaver," said Braves' star Hank Aaron, his head shaking from side to side. "I would have thought we'd sweep the series."

Aaron, who has hit 554 homers during regular season, play, in his career has hit one in each of the two playoff games so far, giving Chief Noc-A-Homa an opportunity to into his war dance in front of his teepee in left field.

But more than homer hitters, the Braves need people who can throw the ball accurately and can pick up a grounder.

A wild throw by first baseman Orlando Cepeda let the tie-breaking run score in the eighth inning of Saturday's game and throwing errors were added by Aaron and Cepeda in a three-run second inning and two-run third inning Sunday.

Mets Build Lead
That helped the Mets build a 9-1 lead that proved insurmountable, and has created a major headache for Atlanta manager Lum Harris, who admits he is totally confused by the Braves' shoddy fielding.

"If I knew what was causing it, I'd know what to do about it," Harris said. "If I through it would help, I'd try anything. I've got the best team I've got or the field now."

But I'm not conceding. If I was playing one-eyed Cat I wouldn't concede. We've got one foot in the grave and we've got to get up off our rears and play baseball or get beat."

That the Mets have been playing baseball, despite their ineffective pitching, is clear from the hitting statistics. Art Shamsky has collected six hits in nine trips and Tommie Agee, Cleon

Jones and Ken Boswell all homered in Sunday's wild one that lasted 3 hours and 10 minutes.

In addition, the Mets found they could run on the Braves, stealing five bases—two each by Agee and Jones.

Rate As Shoo-In
It was all enough to view the Mets as virtual shoo-ins, for almost everyone except Manager Gil Hodges, who managed to keep his voice fairly even as he assessed the two games so far.

"Our boys, I think, are underrated as a hitting ball club," Hodges said. And he added: "I think we have played better defensive ball than the Braves."

No one can argue with either statement.

Fran's Arm Sparks Giants

UP, UP AND AWAY!—Don Herrmann of the N. Y. Giants out jumps George Youngblood of the Chicago Bears, completing pass which is good for a touchdown, during first period of their game here yesterday. (UPI TELEPHOTO).

NEW YORK (AP) — Fran Tarkenton, punished much of the second half by Chicago's bruising defense, threw a 26-yard touchdown to Joe Morrison with 59 seconds left Sunday and brought the New York Giants a 28-24 victory over the Bears in a National Football League game.

Tarkenton's fourth touchdown pass of the game—the other three were in the first half when New York built a 21-7 lead—came a little less than two minutes after Mac Percival had given Chicago a 24-21 lead with a 25-yard field goal.

The Bears had tied the game late in the third period when quarterback Jack Concannon plunged into the end zone from the one after setting up the score by running 31 yards on a fourth-down-and-two situation.

New York's winning drive of 72 yards in six plays was highlighted by Morrison's 20-yard run, a 13-yard pass from Tarkenton to Morrison and the scrambling quarterback's nine-yard scamper.

Tarkenton put New York into a 7-0 lead early in the first quarter with a 42-yard pass to rookie Don Herrmann and made it 14-0 with a 23-yard strike to Freeman White. The second touchdown was set up when Spider Lockhart recovered an errant later pass on the Chicago 23.

After Concannon threw an eight-yard scoring pass to Bob Wallace early in the second period, Tarkenton hit Herrmann with a 17-yard touchdown toss. Chicago's second touchdown came on Concannon's 15-yard pass to Austin Denny with 11 seconds left in the half.

Sports Briefs

NEW YORK (UPI)—John H. Stafford's Tudor Queen, a Canadian filly ridden by Avelino Gomez, won the $138,025 Frizette at Belmont Park Saturday by one and a half lengths by covering the mile course in 1:38.35.

NAPLES, Italy (UPI)—Nino Benvenuti of Italy retained his world middleweight boxing title Saturday night when Fraser Scott, the American challenger from Seattle, Wash., was disqualified for butting in the seventh round.

ST. ANDREWS, Scotland (UPI)—Curtis Person of Memphis, Tenn., shot a two-over-par 74 Saturday and led the United States to a 21-stroke victory over Canada in the world senior golf championship.

Taliaferro Still No. 2

BOSTON (UPI)—Mike Taliaferro is used to being second best to Joe Namath, but at times he appears to be narrowing the gap.

Taliaferro, an understudy to Namath before he was shipped to Boston, outgunned his former teammate, pitching for 168 yards to Namath's 145 on Sunday, and each threw one touchdown pass. But the Patriots quarterback was intercepted twice and that made the difference as the New York Jets capitalized on each miscue en route to a 23-14 victory over Boston.

The key theft came in the third quarter by Bill Baird as the Jets converted it into the decisive touchdown. The Jets also converted the other interception into a field goal and a fumble recovery into another three-pointer.

The Patriots, now 0-4 to New York's 2-2 in the American Football League's Eastern Division, did something you don't often see in pro football—they tried something new with both their offensive and defensive formations.

Gimmicks Fail
Both gimmicks, a three-man offensive spread and a "five side" defense, had either been used by or against the Jets years ago. And cagey Web Ewbank just happened to be pretty well prepared for both. But he still credited Clive Rush, his former assistant, for trying something different.

"That was good strategy on Clive's part...three flankers. There were no real surprises except for that. You can't do very much with only one man back on offense but I think he (Rush) got all he could get out of it," Ewbank said.

Ewbank also agreed with Rush that Taliaferro "always" had the makings of a good quarterback.

"We didn't send him out, he just said he wasn't going to get the chance to play behind Namath," Ewbank explained.

Rush said he thought Taliaferro had done well, particularly with a new offense and against his former teammates.

Rush explained that the flood of offensive changes he kept making were to keep fresh receivers on the field and added that he had not been calling plays.

He said that both the offensive and defensive formation changes hadn't been used much if at all in the AFL over the past six years—though the Jets had practiced against them last week, just in case.

Namath, whose one interception proved harmless, passed 10 yards to Pete Lammons for one New York touchdown and did that rare thing, a quarterback rollout on his creaky knees, for the other score—a four-yard play that settled the issue.

Turner Still Kicking

leading scorer, booted field goals of 16, 17 and 24 yards and kicked a pair of conversions.

On the Boston side, rookie Ron Sellers scored his first touchdown on a 14-yard aerial from Taliaferro in the second quarter to give the Pats a brief 7-3 lead. Jim Nance, who gained 36 yards rushing though his team had a total of only 35 on the ground, tallied the other TD in the fourth quarter on a four-yard run.

The rest of the time, the Patriots couldn't get close enough to let Gino Cappelletti try his foot at matching Turner's field goal barrage.

Gino had to settle for a pair of conversions.

Defekuselyp, Jim Cheyunksi and Marty Schottenheimer kept Boston in the ball game. Cheyunksi had 16 assisted tackles while Schottenheimer was credited with 15 plus five assists and one pass defense assignment.

BOSTON (UPI)—Statistics of the New York-Boston football game:

SINGAPORE (AP) — Unlucky number 13 turned out to be a good omen for Lee Trevino and Orville Moody in the World Cup Golf Tournament here.

Trevino said the turning point was after the 13th hole as the pair won the 17th annual tournament over a field of outstanding world golfers, Sunday.

"The Taiwanese were playing badly and when we were six up after the 13th, I was sure we had it made," said the gregarious Trevino, who shot a record course 65 Sunday for a nine-under-par 275 on the par 71 Bukit course.

Moody had a final 69 for 277, giving the United States a team total of 552 for 72 holes on the 6,692-yard course.

Twins In Trouble

MINNEAPOLIS - ST. PAUL (AP) — Embattled Billy Martin, squeezed and pinched into a dark corner in the American League's championship playoffs, called on burly Bob Miller, a refugee from the Minnesota bullpen, to plug the dike today against the irrepresible Baltimore Orioles.

But the Orioles, holding a patch following their second sudden-death victory in the best-of-5 series, didn't intend to let

Martin's Twins off the hook. "We've been down before and we've come back," Martin said Sunday at Baltimore after the Orioles nipped his club 1-0 in 11 innings on Curt Motton's run-scoring pinch single and the gutsy, three-hit pitching of Dave McNally. "It's been a matter of inches. Who knows? We can still tie it up and win."

The victory, 24 hours after Paul Blair beat Minnesota 4-3 with a 12th inning squeeze bunt, left the Orioles one step from the World Series as the East-West playoff shifted to the Twins' park.

Miller to Pitch
Game three pitted Miller, a National League castoff and one-time relief specialist, with a 5-5 regular season record, against Jim Pamler, who topped a 16-4 comeback for the Orioles by hurling the American League's only no-hitter two months ago.

Miller, a 6-foot-1 right-hander, stepped into the breach for the Twins this year when injuries depleted Martin's starting alignment. He won five of six decisions as a starter and hurled the West Division title clincher on Sept. 22.

Palmer, a shutout winner over Sandy Koufax in the 1966 series—when he was just 20 years old—made a remarkable about-face for the runaway East Division kings after a two-year run of arm trouble.

"We're in good shape with Palmer going," Orioles' manager Earl Weaver understated. "He's our best percentage pitcher."

Weaver wouldn't bite when someone asked him who he planned to start against the New York Mets, who were two games up on Atlanta in their National League playoff after an 11-6 victory Sunday.

"That depends whether we win this—or how long it takes us to win," he countered. "But I thought we could take the Twins from the start and I still think I can get one out of three."

If the third victory were to come any harder for the Orioles than the first two, they'd likely be an emotionally-spent ball club going into the series.

No More Close Ones

Any more of these cliff-hangers and I'm gonna have myself a heart attack," said big Boog Powell, who chugged home from second on Motton's two-out single in the 11th Sunday, breaking up a brilliant duel between McNally and the Twins' Dave Boswell.

After McNally, who held the visitors hitless following Tony Oliva's leadoff single in the fourth, overcame a streak of wildness in the top of the 11th—two successive walks and a 3-0 count on Bob Allison—Powell drew a walk on four pitches to open the bottom half.

Brooks Robinson sacrificed. Dave Johnson was walked intentionally and Mark Belanger fouled out. Martin then lifted Boswell, who had given up seven hits and as many walks, and Motton batted for Elrod Hendricks against reliever Ron Peranoski.

Reserve Outfielder

Motton, a reserve outfielder, lined a shot over second baseman Rod Carew's head into right center. Oliva came up with the ball on a short hop and fired off-balance to the plate.

The throw was a couple of feet up the third base line and Powell skipped across the plate as the ball churned past catcher George Mitterwald.

As the jubilant Orioles raced onto the field, Powell, whose momentum had carried him halfway to the backstop, turned and raced back to the plate.

"I thought I touched it the first time with the tip of my heel, but McNally was hollering his head off to go back; so I did," Powell said.

"He told me he got it," McNally added. "I told him to go back and get it again. I almost tackled him."

Asked what the Orioles planned for an encore in today's game, Powell grinned and replied: "We could go out and score 10 runs in the first inning, but I wouldn't bet on it after these two games."

"We'd like to win in nine," said Orioles slugger Frank Robinson. "but they can go 50 innings as far as I'm concerned—as long as we win 'em. We're not going to argue with success."

Dukes Score On Field Goal

MARLBORO — "You're the greatest," the Marlboro bench kept exhorting throughout the afternoon. And the Dukes' brilliant halfback—Bruce Partington—did everything possible to prove them right here Saturday afternoon.

He kicked a 27-yard field goal early in the fourth period to give the Dukes a 10-8 victory over Ontario Central and racked up 110 yards in 20 carries to take an early lead in the UCAL Player of the Year derby.

It was the second straight outstanding game for the hard-driving back, who a week ago had 307 yards in 38 carries and is over the 425-yard mark for the season.

The victory moved Marlboro into a three-way tie with Pine Bush and Highland with 2-0 records. The Indians, impressive against Red Hook and Walkill, were stopped for the first time this season.

A recovered fumble and blocked kick were the keys to the Marlboro victory. The Dukes moved 35 yards in eight plays to score first in the second quarter. A 15-yard penalty against OCS kept the drive going and quarterback Dan Pasante hit Ken Brooks with a 23-yard TD pass, the latter making a circus catch in the end zone. Partington kicked the extra point to put the Dukes ahead, 7-0.

Quarterback Jim Smith, who completed only three of 19 passes for 91 yards, put two of them together in a 57-yard Ontario touchdown trek after the next kickoff.

The drive started on the OCS 43 but a bad pass from center sailed to the 33 yard line where Ontario recovered. Smith hit Gary Kimmel with a 45-yard bomb to the Marlboro 22 and on the next play found Dennis Gale with a 20-yarder on the two.

Bill Mellett bulled to the one and then crashed into the end zone for an apparent TD. But he fumbled the ball and Kimmel alertly fell on it for OCS' lone touchdown of the day. Mellett rushed for a 2-pointer and Ontario led 8-7 at the half.

The teams battled through a bruising third quarter exchanging fumbles and it looked like the Indians' one-point margin might hold up.

But the break that decided the game came a minute into the fourth quarter. First Smith was snowed under for a huge loss on a pass attempt. Then Tom Minutolo knifed through the OCS defenders to block a punt and Mike Lafaro recovered on the OCS 17. Three plays lost six yards before Partington booted his field goal.

Ontario marched to the Marlboro 18 midway in the third period before surrendering the ball. Late in the fourth quarter, Ontario stopped a Marlborough drive on its own 22, incurred a 5-yard penalty and surrendered the ball on its own 27 after four incomplete passes.

The game was played under clear skies, but a brisk crosswind played havoc with the punting on both sides. OCS had three for a 22-yard average. Marlboro 4 for 28.

The Dukes outstrutted Ontario, 192-90, but the Indians held a 91-22 yard edge in passing. Fumbles were the order of the day, as Marlboro lost the ball four times, Ontario twice (but each led to a score).

Livingston Takes Over And Paces Chiefs' Win

It's a long way from third string quarterback to starter, but Mike Livingston, suddenly thrust into the spotlight by the Kansas City Chiefs, proved fit for the job.

More than fit, as the Denver Broncos saw it after Sunday's 26-13 American Football League loss.

Livingston, a product of Southern Methodist and the Chiefs' second-round draft choice last year, was hailed as the "best pro quarterback prospect to come out of Texas in years" by Texas Christian Coach Fred Taylor after he broke most of Don Meredith's passing records at SMU.

QUEENS couldn't contend with the win-fense stiffened. At the 12-minute mark in the first period, Gino Ventriglia broke out in the open and went all the way unassisted to score the first goal of the game. The second goal for the Kickers came at the 44-minute mark as Elliot Pobbie Asare scored after scoring two goals in the first half and went on the defense to protect the lead right at the start of the second period, but the Kickers as the winners' de-

Visitors Top State Squad

NEW PALTZ final goal came on a penalty kick by George Kerrissey at the 21-03 mark and the final score saw Westfield on top 4-1.

The Hawks had 45 shots at the goal while Westfield attempted 24. New Palitz had doubled the corner kicks 12-6 and saves by the goalie were 9 for the Hawks and 20 for Westfield.

The Hawks travel to East Stroudsburg this Wednesday and carry with them the same record they had last year at this time 1-2. Coach Durkin is hoping that the same change of events takes place this year. The Hawks defeated East Stroudsburg last year 4-3 and went on to win six contests in a row finishing up the season 7-3-1. By the way Westfield is undefeated with a 5-0 record.

Vantage was the star of the trio, and he had a satisfactory July and August at Monticello. In mid-September, Heeney moved Vantage to Freehold, and disaster struck.

Why? "Well, Vantage is a funny horse," Ken Heeney said to night after his victory of a length in the hotly contested pace. "He's a worrier. It takes him a bit of time to get used to a track, and Freehold just didn't suit him. He waled his stall down there in New Jersey as if he were on a treadmill wearing himself out. As a result, his bloodcount went down and, while he was coming in first and second at Monticello, the best he could do at Freehold was a fifth."

"Now he came back home to Monticello and he was glad to be back," and Vantage's performance gave proof to Heeney's words tonight. While Vantage won the race by a length, the place decision was so close that Mazel Rodney, Howard McCullough driving, was charged as second only by a nose. The same margin determined that Brown Smoke, George Reisinger driving, was fourth, finishing Morning After, Bob Camper reining.

It was a 5 and 1 double at Monticello on Saturday night that was worth $44.20.

Rindt Wins Grand Prix

WATKINS GLEN, N.Y. (UPI)—Jochen Rindt had to break his own jinx and keep a tradition to win first place and $50,000 in the Grand Prix of the United States Sunday.

The 27-year-old Austrian driver flashed across the finish line nearly a minute ahead of his nearest competitor, winning the first Grand Prix victory of his career before a crowd of 100,000 persons.

It was a grueling race for most of the rest of the field however, with only seven of the 18 starters still running at the end of the 248 mile event.

Former world champion Graham Hill of England, who has won the U.S. Grand Prix three times, crashed his Lotus-Ford 14 laps from the finish. Hill blew a tire and the Lotus went end over end at the back loop. Hill broke a leg, but was reported in fair condition in an Elmira, N.Y., hospital.

It was a sweet victory for Rindt, who has won the pole position in six of the 10 races held this year, led five races at one time or another, but never won. He also preserved an 11-year tradition that a world champion never wins in the United States the same year he wins the title.

Jackie Stewart of Scotland, the man who had already wrapped up the championship before the Glen race, chased Rindt for the first 35 laps. The two swapped the lead several times before Stewart was forced out with an oil leak on lap 36.

It was Rindt's race from there on. Piers Courage of England finished second in the world standings with 22 points. Brabham, who rh aried ddn t fourth place in the world. Stewart has 60. Jacky Ickx is second with 31, and Bruce McLaren third with 22.

Introducing A Used Car Guarantee . . . It Doesn't Come With Every Car

It's a 100% guarantee. Not one of those "we pay-half-you-pay-half deals."

And it comes only with used cars that pass the Volkswagen 16 point Safety and Performance test.

This is how it works. When we get a car as a trade in, we give it the inspection. Check it out completely. If it passes, we tune up, tighten, repair or replace everything that needs tuning up, tightening, repairing or replacing.

Then we guarantee it 100% repair or replacement of all major mechanical parts* for 30 days or 1,000 miles.

What kind of cars get our guarantee? All kinds. Chevs, Fords, Ramblers, VWs. We get all kinds of trade-ins for new Volkswagens.

So, the next time somebody tries to sell you a used car that's "just like new," ask about the guarantee. Then remember us.

No, our used cars aren't "just like new." No used car can be. But no used cars could be in better shape, either.

Assessing the New Season

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) —Comedian Herb Shriver used to tell how they once held a beauty contest in his home town and nobody won. By parallel association, we come today to an assessment of the season's new television series.

If you were asked to name the better programs of the new season, you would have to include CBS-TV's interview with Russian writer-defector Anatoly Kuznetsov, and NBC-TV's "Meet the Press" talk with Stalin's daughter, and ABC-TV's "Folk Gospel Music Festival" and CBS-TV's Woody Allen special. But no series really has anything extraordinary about it.

Several, of course, have something to recommend them. For example, ABC-TV's "Love, American Style," a weekly group of humorous contemporary tales of romance, is most promising.

NBC-TV's "Then Came Bronson," with Michael Parks as a sort of motorcycle replacement for the old nomad cowboy hero—here today and straighten things out, then gone tomorrow—has a strong star, fine photography and a good contemporary touch.

ABC-TV's "Room 222," about a Negro history teacher and his associates in an integrated high school, is a nice mixture of contemporary message and melodrama and wry humor (provided by Michael Constantine as a world-weary principal).

NBC-TV's Bill Cosby comedy, meanwhile, has a tremendously strong and appealing star, and I like the way plots give way to his show to something like extended monologues concerning people, the way things are and cool attitudes—via vignettes.

One standard situation comedy, CBS-TV's "The Governor and J. J.," offers some pleasant banter of an escapist kind by Dan Dailey (the governor) and Julie Sommers (as his daughter), Miss Sommers is surely video's female catch of the season.

So much for those new shows that seem to have more to offer than the others. There are, however, two new hour-long soap-opera type serials that are very fancily done (I mean for sheer plushness). One is NBC-TV's "Bracken's World," about a movie studio. The other is ABC-TV's "The Survivors," focusing on those parasitic bums known as The Beautiful People. Given a chance in the right time slots, both shows could catch on.

BARBS

By PHIL PASTORET

Some jokes are as old as the devil—and nearly as naughty.

Hold on to your money. That's about all it's good for these days.

An old-timer is a fellow who recalls the near-beer of prohibition days.

It's going to be a long, hard winter. The squirrels are storing nuts early, the woolly caterpillars have big, black bands and the gas company just upped its rate.

In the spring a young man's fancy is by no means the same girl he yearns for in the fall.

Timely Quote

California, being larger than life, encourages excess. If you're a weirdo or a junkie you're that much weirder or junkier. Even writers talk about selling "properties" instead of writing books. I want out.

—Joe Hyams, the writer, explaining why he and his actress wife are leaving Los Angeles.

I think Mr. Nixon made certain commitments to the Southern politicians before Miami, certainly at Miami, and perhaps since Miami. Who knows?

—Roy Wilkins, NAACP executive director.

When Nixon begins to feel pleasantly relaxed or playfully enjoying, I think, some danger sign goes up, some inner command says no, and he feels called back into the quest for world to conquer.

—Prof. James David Barber of Yale, in a paper discussing the characteristics of a number of American presidents.

Republicans are still far more interested in Wall Street than Main Street, far more concerned about financial centers than poverty centers.

—Carl Albert, Democratic House leader.

If you can think of a better way to do our job, you'll probably tell us about it.

Gwendolyn, don't be disappointed when you don't catch a glance at General Admission after paying to see him at the county fair.

Thinking about nothing to do takes up most of some folks' working hours.

An old-timer is someone who recalls when every home boasted of a basket of wax fruit as a decoration for the dining room table. As a matter of fact, an old-timer is someone who recalls what a dining room is.

A wolf is a fellow who calls up a girl for no good reason.

Enemy Mortars, Rockets Slam 39 Towns and Bases

SAIGON (UPI)—Thirty-nine towns and Allied military bases came under mortar or rocket attack Sunday night and this morning in the heaviest round of barrages reported in more than three weeks.

America's top military man, Gen. Earle G. Wheeler, predicted on his arrival on a fact-finding tour Saturday the Communists would step up their attacks, leading to a winter offensive.

Military spokesmen said the salvos caused damage or casualties at 16 locations, with two U.S. servicemen wounded in eight attacks against GI bases. Overall losses were described as light.

Civilian losses included one killed and six wounded at Ho Nai, 21 miles northeast of Saigon, and one killed and four wounded at Binh Phuoc, 26 miles southwest of the capital, spokesmen said.

Ground fighting remained light except for two Communist ground attacks Sunday which killed a total of six Americans and wounded 19, with no guerrilla losses reported.

Behind one mortar barrage, North Vietnamese troops charged into a U.S. 4th Infantry Division camp in the highlands and killed two Americans while wounding six with hand grenades and satchel explosives.

On the northern coast, troops of the Army's Americal Division turned back a similar attack with the help of U.S. warplanes but lost four killed and 13 wounded. No Communist bodies were found in either place.

Those clashes were reported in communiques that listed five smaller skirmishes along the Cambodian border northwest of Saigon. Forty-one Viet Cong and North Vietnamese were killed against one American dead, headquarters said.

U.S. B52 bombers followed up with seven raids along the Cambodian frontier and another in the Central Highlands northwest of Pleiku. They dropped at least 600 tons of bombs onto their targets.

Thieu--Will Lessen U.S. Load

NGUYEN VAN THIEU

SAIGON (UPI)—President Nguyen Van Thieu said today that "in order to help the U.S. government with its internal problems," South Vietnam is determined to replace the bulk of U.S. fighting units in 1970.

Thieu's 70-minute speech to the national assembly alluded to the increasing U.S. criticism of President Nixon's war policy. He said South Vietnam's allies "don't lack of means, but of resolution."

"We have to lessen the heavy load by the Allies," Thieu said. "Today, we confirm to the U.S. government that we want to do so."

"... In order to help the U.S. government with its internal problems and minimize the suffering borne by the people of the United States, we, the Vietnamese people, are determined to replace the bulk of the U.S. fighting units in 1970," he told the lawmakers.

Mentions No Numbers

He mentioned no numbers, nor did he identify what he considered fighting units. The U.S. Command has said before that only about 100,000 of the 500,000 GIs in the war zone are actually involved in combat.

Thieu's speech followed the same lines as an interview of his vice president, Nguyen Cao Ky, published in the United States today. Ky said the U.S. combat role would be ended by the end of 1970.

As he has done previously, Thieu rejected a coalition government with the Communists and said an unconditional cease-fire was out of the question.

He said that some Allied troops should remain in Vietnam "as long as a peace with guarantees has not yet been restored and new Communist aggression is still threatening this part of the world."

Must Fight

"We (the South Vietnamese) don't have many solutions to choose," he said. "We must fight decisively and as long as necessary."

The legislators applauded loudest at Thieu's proclamation that there is only one way for us, which is to continue to fight in order to safeguard our independence, freedom and democracy.

He blamed the lack of progress at the peace talks in Paris on the "stubborn attitude" of the Communists in demanding his overthrow and a part of themselves in the Saigon government.

"I will never agree to discuss any coalition government with the Communists," said Thieu.

$6,473 Payment For Viet Widow

SAIGON (UPI)—The widow of the man the U.S. Army once said was murdered by eight Green Berets will get $6,473 as full compensation for the disappearance of her husband, U.S. Embassy officials said Sunday.

Mrs. Phan Kim Lien Chuyen said it was her understanding the payment represented the U.S. Army's portion of the compensation and she expects more money from the embassy.

The embassy said the equivalent of $6,473 paid in Vietnamese piastres was total compensation.

Mrs. Chuyen last week said she felt she should get $160 a month for loss of her husband.

who she said worked as an interpreter for the Green Berets. That had been his salary.

"Mrs. Chuyen, in the presence of her attorney, accepted the missing persons gratuity from representatives of the U.S. Foreign Claims Commission," said a U.S. spokesman. "The amount of the settlement was mutually agreed upon and represents what was determined to be adequate compensation to Mrs. Chuyen. This is in full settlement of her request for compensation from the U.S. government."

Mrs. Chuyen's compensation represents approximately 40 months at the $160 a month rate which she had asked.

Accused of 'Khaki Cosa Nostra'

WASHINGTON (AP)—Allegations of improper gun sales are expected to be added to a seething Army scandal so far composed of accusations of theft, currency manipulation, and bribery against a clique of sergeants accused of running a "khaki cosa nostra."

And the Army's one-time top law enforcement officer is to be grilled by senators on allegations he protected a leader of the ring through what one of his investigators called a "god-damn fix."

Pentagon sources said at least one high-ranking officer was involved in the allegedly improper gun sales, including some Vietnam war weapons.

The military sources said a team of Army investigators has uncovered evidence some of these guns were sold for private profit to civilian dealers.

In a second week of hearings before the Senate's investigators subcommittee, Army witnesses are expected to detail more about the double life they said was led by former sergeant major of the Army, William O. Woodridge.

These are a few of the allegations so far made in the Senate testimony.

Woodridge was a leader of a multimillion-dollar criminal conspiracy of top-ranking enlisted men who schemed to systematically loot funds, equipment, food and liquor from NCO clubs in Germany, the United States and Vietnam.

That the alleged scheme grossed $350,000 annually in rake-offs from slot machine proceeds in the clubs of the 24th Infantry Division in the Augsburg-Munich area of Germany.

That Woodridge used his rank, connections and influence to promote his friends, and to protect the alleged conspiracy from exposure.

That at a secret, conclave at Ft. Benning, Ga., Woodridge, the clique of sergeants and a retired major general met to plan a scheme to manipulate U.S. and Vietnamese currency and to direct the investment of illicit funds skimmed from the clubs.

That some of the sergeants formed their own firm—the Meredem Corp.—to sell equipment and goods to the clubs they themselves ran.

That payoffs in money and liquor dampened outcries and caused official investigations to be hampered or halted.

That the provost marshal general of the army, Gen. Carl C. Turner, personally intervened to halt an investigation that threatened to link alleged illegal activities in Augsburg and Ft. Benning—an alleged action one of his key investigators say he called a "goddamn fix."

That files containing records of a 1943 court martial and two counts of AWOL against Woodridge mysteriously disappeared from a record depository.

And that there existed a highly unusual system which enabled the sergeants involved to be transferred in a body from Augsburg to Ft. Benning to Vietnam—in each case to assignments as NCO club officials.

Long War in Vietnam--Erosion of the Morale

WASHINGTON (AP)—Army Corps and Navy figures showed level, but the Navy is worrying about losing aviators and submariners.

"Many of my contemporaries with 15 and 16 years of service are packing it in," reported one decorated Army lieutenant colonel.

"Pride of profession has kept them going, but that pride is taking a terrible battering these days."

The services cannot afford a serious drain of younger officers particularly those who have gained experience and seasoning in the field and on staffs.

The problem is growing, too, so far as attracting junior officers is concerned, with a general forecast that the antimilitary climate will affect college ROTC noticeably this year.

He recalled how, on a recent tour of ROTC units, one cadet told him: "General, you don't know how rough it is to wear a uniform on campus."

Gen. Leonard F. Chapman Jr., commandant of the Marine Corps, recently voiced the resentment which is evident throughout the military at being tagged "hawks."

"I believe," he said, "that the true dove is born of battle. No one wants peace more than that young Marine rifleman on his 50th patrol or the Marine aviator flying his third helicopter medical evacuation mission in one day."

Army officers are discouraged because, they say, the recent ugly Green Beret murder case in Vietnam has served to intensify an impression they fear is widespread—that U.S. military men are indiscriminate killers who ignore the rules of war.

Some officers complain that they are badgered by civilians whom they meet socially.
